BRANDS GOVERNMENT FEDERAL AUTHORITY MOTION AS SEDITIOUS

Opposition Attempt to Have Resolution to Implement Disallowed Acts Defeated in Alberta House—Bill to Impose Heavy Taxation on Banks in Province Given First Reading

EDMONTON, Sept. 27 (P.).—Debate on a resolution denying Federal authority to disallow Provincial legislation and expressing determination to implement disallowed acts was adjourned tonight until tomorrow after the Alberta Legislature upheld 45 to 11 a ruling by Speaker Dawson that the resolution was in order.

Contention the right of disallowance was extinct and that if the King cannot disallow Imperial legislation, then his representatives—the Governor-General or Lieutenant-Governor—have no greater power and cannot disallow Federal or Provincial legislation was argued by Hon. Lucien Maynard, Minister of Municipal Affairs. Provinces were sovereign in their own sphere, he declared.

CHARGE SEDITION

Still speaking at adjournment, Mr. Maynard spoke after D. M. Duggan, Conservative leader, and Gerald O'Connor (Liberal, Edmonton) contended the resolution seditious. Mr. Duggan raised the point of order and the vote on the Speaker's ruling came after he declared the resolution in order.

The Bank Taxation Act, providing for an increase from one-tenth to one-half of 1 per cent in the paid-up capital tax and providing a new tax of 1 per cent on reserves and undivided profits was given first reading.

AIR ATTACKS CONDEMNED

League Committee Passes Resolution Denouncing Slaughter of Civilians

GENEVA, Sept. 27 (P.).—Japanese aerial bombardment of Chinese cities was condemned by the League of Nations' advisory committee today in a strongly-worded resolution denouncing the killing "of innocent civilians."

The resolution, declaring such bombardments "have aroused horror and indignation throughout the world," was prepared for submission to the League of Nations Assembly tomorrow.

Dr. Wellington Koo, China's delegate, urged the League to brand Japan "the wrongdoer of the world" and the aggressor of the Sino-Japanese conflict if it cannot go farther and "enforce international law and principles of the covenant."

OTHER DENUNCIATIONS

Denunciations of Japan's repeated air attacks came also from Great Britain, France, Sweden and Russia. Sentiment was so pronounced that Foreign Minister William Munters of Latvia, president of the committee representing twenty-three nations, called a recess so that the resolution could be drawn up immediately.

Prepared by Munters, the British and the Russian delegates, the resolution asserted:

"The advisory committee, taking into urgent consideration the ques-

CITY WAITS ON B.C. TREASURY

Headed by Mayor Andrew McGavin, Victoria City spokesmen met members of the Provincial Government yesterday in connection with working out of details of the Fortin plan of civic refunding. The conference was private and no announcement was made by the Government after the meeting.

Mayor McGavin, C. S. Henley and D. A. Macdonald, city comptroller, called on Hon. John Hart for a half hour's conference in the morning, at which it is understood provincial co-operation was sought in connection with refunding plans.

LOOKING AHEAD

The Government has already intimated that legislation necessary for the carrying out of the scheme by Victoria city would be forthcoming, when desired. Apart from that, the city is interested in the measure of provincial grants which may be made available to the municipalities under the new budget now in course of preparation. Whether or not any assurances were given under that head could not immediately be ascertained.

After the audience with the Government, the city delegation returned to a special meeting of the civic finance committee, called at the City Hall.

Five Seeking Election to Alberta Seat

The candidates will be E. L. Gray, Alberta Liberal leader, endorsed by Conservatives; Mayor Joseph A. Clarke, "People's Front"; Alderman Margaret Crang, Labor-Progressive; Jan Lakeman, Communist; and Rice Sheppard, "People's" candidate. Social Crediters did not nominate a candidate.

DESTROYERS TO ESCORT PARTY

Skeena and Fraser Will Convoy U.S. President—Route Of Parade in City

Two details of Victoria's reception to the President of the United States on Thursday afternoon were settled yesterday, being an escort to meet the visiting destroyers at sea, and the full route of the presidential party through city streets.

Naval officials announced that H.M.C.S. Skeena and H.M.C.S. Fraser would steam out to meet the U.S.S. Phelps and U.S.S. Porter at the international boundary line in the Strait of Juan de Fuca, later escorting them to their berth at the Canadian National Railways Ogden Point Docks, where a landing will be made at 12:30 p.m.

City police, under Chief Thomas Heatley, meanwhile published the full route of the procession after landing, warning car owners at the same time to keep cars off the route of the parade, which will be as follows:

To Government House, via Dallas Road, Menzies Street, Belleville Street, Government Street, Yates Street, Vancouver Street and Rockland Avenue. From Government House, via Oak Bay Avenue, Richmond Avenue, Fort Street, Cadboro Bay Road, Uplands and Marine Drive back to Ogden Point.

Six Motorcycle policemen, headed by Chief Heatley, will lead the procession.

University of Montreal To Have Government Aid

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 (P.).—Government financial aid will be given "as soon as possible" to the debt-harassed University of Montreal, whose giant new buildings on the northern slope of Mount Royal never have been occupied.

Dr. J. H. A. Paquette, Provincial Secretary, declared today "the University of Montreal must be saved," and said $300,000 would be forthcoming shortly to cover salary arrears and other long-overdue accounts.

Preliminary report by a commission named by the Government to investigate the financial status of the college showed $3,500,000 would be required to complete the buff-colored buildings, and an additional $600,000 would be required to meet the annual deficit, amortization and interest charges.

Rome and Berlin to Work In Close Collaboration on European Affairs

UNDERSTANDING IS NOT AIMED AT OTHER STATES

BERLIN, Sept. 27 (P.).—Benito Mussolini and Adolf Hitler in an exchange of banquet toasts tonight reaffirmed solidarity of the Rome-Berlin axis of close collaboration in European affairs.

The two Fascist leaders proclaimed that their co-operative axis, though capable of supporting even wide European co-operation, is impervious to any attempts to wreck Italo-German friendship by playing one nation off against the other.

Mussolini and his host, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, made their reaffirmation of friendship at a state banquet given in the Reichs-Chancellery for the visiting Italian statesman.

Prince Rupert Granting Concessions For Huge New Pulp Mill

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 27 (P.).—Prince Rupert property owners and licence holders in a referendum vote today approved the city's proposal to grant concessions for the erection of an $8,000,000 pulp mill.

The vote was 620 to 12 for the proposal.

The mill, plans for which were completed last July, will be constructed by a company financed by Canadian, New York and San Francisco capital.

It will have a capacity of 250 tons of bleached sulphite pulp daily, or 75,000 tons per year and will be the largest single sulphite pulp enterprise in British Columbia. Under present plans production will probably begin about the end of 1938.

About 2,500 men will be employed in the new mill.

Endeavour Reported Safe With All Hands And Nearing Ireland

Definite Contact Made With Missing Yacht by British Tanker—First Direct Report Since Breaking of Towline Fortnight Ago

LONDON, Sept. 27 (AP).—The British yacht Endeavour I, unsuccessful challenger in 1934 for the America's Cup, was reported "safe with all hands" tonight. Captain Alcock, of the British tanker Cheyenne, wirelessed he had contacted the Endeavour 260 miles off the Coast of Ireland. His message, to the Associated Press, was in response to a request that all ships on the North and South Atlantic be on the lookout for the missing yacht.

Lloyd's of London posted Captain Alcock's report. The famous Lutine bell rang a second time to announce finding of the yacht which had been missing since September 13. A previous report, from the Azores last week, proved erroneous.

Lost in a 105-mile Atlantic gale with nineteen men aboard, the Endeavour had struggled across from the American coast. Yachting circles were jubilant over today's report—the first direct word since her towline broke off Nantucket.

At the village of Tollesbury, home of Captain Ned Heard and six members of the Endeavour's crew, the Rev. W. Carter announced the discovery to villagers. For days it had been his task to console families of those aboard the yacht.

HALIBUT CATCH MAKES RECORD

Glut of Fish at Prince Rupert Market Creates Disposal Problem

PRINCE RUPERT, Sept. 27 (P.).—A new record for one day's halibut offerings was set here today when twenty-three vessels reached port from the halibut banks with 677,000 pounds of fish. The previous record was 658,000 pounds.

What to do with the fish had not been decided late today. Refrigerator cars available could only handle 400,000 pounds of the offerings.

SEEKING EXTENSION

Several of the large American schooners wished to unload at Seattle, but, unless efforts to obtain an extension of the final clearance date for halibut fishing were successful, fishermen said they would have to dispose of their catches here.

Midnight Wednesday has been set for final sailings to the banks. The International Fisheries Commission was asked today to extend the time limit so that the American ships might unload at Seattle instead of here.

Buyers offered prices ranging around 8 cents and 6 cents for today's offerings.

JAPANESE BOMBING CONTINUES HEAVY SLAUGHTER OF CIVILIANS

New Attacks by Planes in Eastern China Follow Warning of Ruthless Campaign—More Non-Combatants Killed by Submarine Sinking Of Fishing Junks Off Coast

Japanese Continue Advance On Northern China Front

SHANGHAI, Sept. 27 (AP). — Japanese bombing planes attacked scattered points in Eastern China today, killing an estimated 100 to 200 civilians in a drive to shut off supplies from China's armies.

The new attacks were part of a campaign announced yesterday by Rear-Admiral Tadao Honda, Japanese naval attache, who warned bombardment of military objectives will be carried out regardless of loss of life.

Survivors declared another 300 men, women and children were killed when a Japanese submarine sank a fleet of Chinese fishing junks on the South China coast.

FIFTY KILLED

Fifty civilians were killed in attacks on the environs of Nanking, China's capital, but the city itself was spared.

Rainfall during the night prevented a renewal of the bombardments. Chinese reported at least fifty were killed at Chuhsien, and forty at Kinghwa, approximately 100 miles southwest of Shanghai. Terminus of the Canton-Hankow railway at Canton, China's southern metropolis, was set on fire by Japanese bombs.

In Shanghai itself, Japanese reinforcements were hurried into the lines to stem a counter-attack. Japanese warships and land batteries opened fire on the crowded North Station area. Japanese bombers dropped four big projectiles just outside the International Settlement, along the Woosung railway.

The report of the submarine attack on fishing ships off the South China coast came from ten sur-

The Kingswood was badly damaged near Port Pirie by a boiler explosion. Towing days totaled 127, but in addition the two ships spent twenty-one days in various ports. The Kingswood will undergo repairs in the Tyne.

Plane, Long Time Lost, Is Located

AMOY, French Indo-China, Sept. 28 (CP-Havas).—A Lufthansa plane, missing for a month after disappearing on a flight to map a new route to the Far East, arrived today at Kabul, Afghanistan, with the three members of its crew all safe aboard.

The German plane was piloted by Baron Carl von Gablez, technical director of Lufthansa. Captain Unfucht and Radio Operator Korchoff accompanied him. They disappeared early this month after leaving Nyansichow, China, for Kabul.

Today they revealed they had motor trouble and were forced to land at Khotan, in Chinese Turkestan.

COMMISSIONER ASSASSINATED

Shot From Ambush in Nazareth—Assistant Commissioner Escapes

JERUSALEM, Sept. 27 (P.).—Police investigating the assassination of Lewis Andrews, British commissioner of Galilee, held 108 Arabs for questioning in Nazareth, Haifa and Nablus today.

Impressive military funerals were given Andrews and his bodyguard, Constable Peter McEwan, shot down in Nazareth yesterday by a terrorist ambuscade as they left church services.

A detachment of British troops arrived in Nazareth to patrol the streets, where most of the shops were closed because of the tense atmosphere. All suspected Arabs were being taken into custody.

Pirie Gordon, assistant commissioner, narrowly escaped the assassins' fusillade which, witnesses said, was fired at close range by two men in European clothing and one in peasant dress.

Extremists, angered by Andrews' strict rule in the long strife between the Holy Land's Arabs and Jews, frequently had threatened his life.

The first assassination of a senior British officer in the history of Palestine brought a statement from the Arab higher committee expressing "horror and condemnation of this painful incident."

FEELING IS AGGRAVATED

Russo-Japanese Tension Increased by Warning Sent From Soviet

MOSCOW, Sept. 27 (AP).—A Soviet warning against "lawless" Japanese bombardment of Nanking increased tension between Russia and Japan tonight.

Reports from Tokio declared Russia and Japan were concentrating troops along the frontier between Siberia and Japanese-dominated Manchukuo. The Japanese newspaper Hochi said the Siberian port and Soviet army post of Vladivostok was "seething" with anti-Japanese feeling.

Another Tokio newspaper said Russia and China had negotiated a secret military alliance. A Japanese Foreign Office spokesman said he had "much information" about the reported pact.

REGISTER PROTEST

The Soviet Government registered "determined protest" against any bombardment of the Soviet embassy at Nanking, and declared it would hold the Japanese Government responsible for any damage resulting from such a bombardment.

Officials of the embassy, the note declared, had been instructed to remain at their posts.

Soviet officials reported Japan

TAKE STEPS TO HALT EPIDEMIC

British Columbia Towns Close Schools and Ban Public Meetings

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (P.). — Schools were closed and public meetings banned in three Interior British Columbia towns tonight as municipal health authorities moved to forestall the threat of an infantile paralysis epidemic feared moving westward from Eastern Canada, where it has been raging for more than a month.

One boy, Robert Bearisto, had contracted the disease at Vernon, and doctors said they suspected another child had caught it. At Penticton, eleven-year-old Mildred Strong was kept under close observation after showing symptoms of the malady.

Authorities at these two centres and at nearby Oliver ordered schools closed and public gatherings postponed to prevent, if possible, spread of the disease.

DOING NICELY

Meanwhile, in Vancouver, two children were in the isolation ward at Vancouver General Hospital with infantile paralysis, but doctors said both were "doing nicely."

Officials of the Metropolitan Health Board, which co-ordinates health services in Greater Vancouver and adjoining municipalities, said they did not think the disease would spread to epidemic proportions in the Coast district.

At Trail, one boy was reported "recovering" from the dread sickness, which he contracted in August.

FORMER PREMIER OF ONTARIO ILL

Hon. George S. Henry Collapses While Addressing Political Meeting—Must Take Rest

TORONTO, Sept. 27 (P.). — Hon. George S. Henry, former Conservative Premier of Ontario, tonight was described by doctors as greatly over-worked and rundown after Mr. Henry collapsed while addressing a political meeting. He was speaking at Todmorden, in his riding of York East, where he is again seeking election in the October 6 Ontario voting.

Doctors said the collapse was due to poor ventilation in the hall and over-work. Mr. Henry was given treatment by a doctor and then resumed his place on the platform. Shortly after, however, he decided to go home, where he will take a long rest.

Commission Head Meets Government To Arrange Plans

Far-Reaching Results May Spring From Royal Commission to Open British Columbia Hearings Early Next Year — Chairman N. W. Rowell, K.C., and Prof. H. F. Angus Here

THE commission out of which may grow five instead of nine Provinces in Canada, with reapportioning of Federal and Provincial revenues and responsibilities in a general shakeup of the process of government, was represented in Victoria yesterday by two of its members, Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., chairman, and Professor H. F. Angus, of the University of British Columbia, the latter being the British Columbia member on the panel.

Members of the commission met the British Columbia Government in the morning, and arranged to open its hearings in this province early in the new year.

Chairman Rowell, of course, did not refer to territorial redivision in Canada nor to any express issue which may come before his commission. Instead, he announced that the commission would open its hearings in Manitoba during November, probably at Winnipeg, at a precise date not yet settled. On October 7, members of the commission will meet at Ottawa to draft out a formal agenda and an itinerary.

British Columbia hearings will open early in 1938, with direct representations from the British Columbia Government, boards of trade and other bodies.

MUNICIPAL BRIEFS

The status of municipalities before the commission remains in some doubt, municipalities seeking direct representation, and the Province inclined to make their submissions for them. Mr. Chief Justice Rowell said the commission would hear the municipalities directly, if the Province concurs in that course. The Province reserved its answer on this phase of the issue.

Premier Pattullo announced after a conference held in the morning with the visiting members of the commission that the Province would be ready to present its own case early in the New Year, and considered the terms of the reference sufficiently wide to permit of all British Columbia issues being heard. For the immediate present, the Province is busy with plans for the Fall session of the House.

PROVINCES CO-OPERATING

Chief Justice Rowell arrived in the city on Sunday, and left again on the afternoon boat yesterday for Vancouver, with plans to spend a day in the Fraser Valley before returning east. In an interview at the Empress Hotel shortly after his arrival, the chairman of the commission said that the provinces generally had shown a willingness to make representations to his group, and that the task of organizing the work of the commission was well under way.

A committee of economic experts is now being assembled by the commission, and will be instructed to report on various matters at the direction of the group, His Lordship said. The personnel of the committee was not stated. For the rest, the commission will travel throughout the Dominion, and hear representations at Provincial capitals from Provincial Governments and other public bodies, within the terms of the reference bringing it into being.

MANY ISSUES

While British Columbia submissions will not be announced in advance, it is unofficially believed they will touch on the Yukon annexation issue, redivision of the cost of governmental services, British Columbia's continuing claims for better treatment under the terms of union at Confederation, and redisposition of tax revenues as between the Dominion and the Province. A separate and special brief may be entered by the Province respecting its municipalities, following a year-long study of municipal finance by Provincial experts here.

The formal part of their mission over, members of the commission were entertained by Cabinet members at luncheon, and taken for a drive about the city, before returning to the Mainland. It will be 1938 before the commission returns.

ACCEPT EXPLANATION FOR FIRING ON PLANES

MOSCOW, Sept. 27 (AP).—A Soviet explanation that Russian airplanes flew over Finnish territory only by mistake was accepted without protest, the Finnish Legation said.

The legation said Finnish troops fired on Soviet planes to show them they had crossed the 600-mile-long frontier. About a dozen planes flew over the border in manoeuvres, the legation said. Most recently, on September 21, a Soviet plane flew a mile inside the Finnish frontier to get medical aid.

ASTRONOMER VISITED EAST

Dr. R. M. Petrie, of Saanich Observatory, Attended Meetings in U.S.

DR. R. M. PETRIE

Dr. R. M. Petrie, of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory staff, Saanich, returned yesterday after a nearly five weeks' motor trip to the East, the objective, after many interesting experiences, being reached when he arrived at Williamstown, Mass., to attend the meetings of the American Astronomical Society to hear the discussions and read seven papers sent by members of the local observatory staff.

Williamstown College was observing the hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Hopkins Observatory there, so the occasion had historical as well as scientific interest, Dr. Petrie reports. But while this is one of the oldest observatories on the continent, the telescope is quite small, and is used merely for intructional purposes in connection with the college. About 125 astronomers from all parts of the United States and Canada attended the meetings.

MOTORED TO ANN ARBOR

Accompanied by Mrs. Petrie, Dr. Petrie left here on August 19 and motored via the Northern States to Ann Arbor, Mich., to visit the university, where he did post-graduate work after leaving the University of British Columbia, and where he took his M.A. and Ph.D. Here he spent three days, during which he renewed many old friendships and hunted up many of his old colleagues.

From Ann Arbor he went to Pontiac to visit the McMath-Hulbert Observatory, which has specialized in solar motion photography, having, in fact, built the first solar telescope in existence. The distinguishing feature of this type of instrument is that the telescope and spectroscope are fixed, while the sunlight is "fed" to the telescope by means of a moving mirror. Dr. Petrie, who spent several months at Pontiac before he came to Victoria, expresses the view that this new instrument will be of great significance to solar astronomy.

DUNLAP OBSERVATORY

From Michigan he and Mrs. Petrie went to Toronto to visit the Dunlap Observatory, which has many features in common with the observatory here. The director, Dr. R. K. Young, and two of the other members of the staff, Dr. Frank S. Hogg and Dr. Helen Sawyer Hogg, were formerly on the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory staff here.

From Toronto they went on to Williamstown, Mass., and from there to Pennsylvania, to visit relations of Mrs. Petrie. They greatly enjoyed the motor trip from there westward to Seattle, touching at Chicago to visit the Yerkes Observatory en route. Among the most impressive sights during the remainder of the trip were the Black Hills of South Dakota and the Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia.

BOMBS CONTINUE CIVILIAN SLAUGHTER

vivors taken to Hongkong on the German liner Scharnhorst. They said the submarine rose to the surface off Cheelonghau Point and sank junk after junk, steaming away while the wounded and dying struggled in the water.

British authorities at Hongkong started an investigation, because some of the junks were understood to have been sailing under British registry.

Businessmen in Shanghai said Japan had established its own customs house in the area in an apparent attempt to throttle foreign commerce in the French Concession and the International Settlement.

RAIDS ON CANTON

CANTON, Sept. 28 (CP-Havas).—Foreign nationals spent sleepless hours early today in anticipation of reappearance of Japanese airmen, who yesterday dropped three bombs into the international residential sector, turned the nearby Wongsha railway station into a blazing furnace and caused severe damage along the Canton-Hankow railway. The raids apparently were designed to destroy the railway.

Three of many bombs aimed at the Wongsha station fell into the foreign areas of Shameen. Foreign authorities were forced to close the gates to end the stampede of Chinese flocking into Shameen after the first air raid alarm.

An early checkup revealed eighty casualties, most of whom were caught in houses adjoining the station. Six were killed within the station itself.

LOOMS AS "VERDUN"

TIENSTIN, Sept. 28 (CP).—Yenman Pass, key to all Southern Shansi Province, loomed as a Chinese "Verdun" today as Japanese troops continued their advance through Hopeh Province, along the Peiping-Hankow and Tienstin-Pukow railways.

The Rising Sun banner apparently met only sporadic resistance in Hopeh but faced the threat of 80,000 troops of the former Chinese Red army entrenched around Yenman Pass, gateway to Shansi's capital.

The former Chinese Red divisions, now known as the regular Eighth Route Army, were said in Chinese circles to have been responsible for a reported Chinese victory north of the Inner Wall.

MORE ADVANTAGEOUS.

TOKIO, Sept. 28 (CP-Havas).—Japanese leaders strongly favor a continuation of the policy of an "undeclared war" in China as more advantageous than open war would be, both during the conflict and after its conclusion, authoritative sources indicated today.

It was learned, moreover, that authorities responsible for consolidation of Japanese influence in North China and Manchukuo, especially military leaders, are resolutely opposed to a formal declaration of war. They consider present policies make it easier to conduct the "punitive campaign" against the "warlords of China" without "imitating the useless Western formalities."

WILL BE PROTEST

LONDON, Sept. 27 (CP-Havas).—An energetic British protest will be lodged at Tokio if investigation shows there were junks of British nationality among the Chinese fishing fleet reported sunk off Hongkong by a Japanese submarine, it was predicted tonight.

While officials maintained silence, word of the incident brought increased support for an unofficial campaign for a boycott of all Japanese imports, which is sponsored by The News-Chronicle.

Reports from Hongkong told of a new Japanese naval attack on Hainan Island, southwest of Canton. The operation was regarded here as disturbing since it followed shortly after a visit by Charles Arsene Henry, French Ambassador to Tokio, to the Japanese Foreign Office, to inquire into Tokio's intentions in shelling the island.

It was adopted immediately. Great Britain, leading the move for immediate action, was seconded by France.

Mrs. J. F. Clarke, Pioneer Citizen, Called to Rest

At the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. Geake, 1242 Faithful Street, there passed peacefully away yesterday afternoon Mrs. Julia Frances Clarke, aged eighty-two years.

Born in New York, Mrs. Clarke had resided in Victoria for the past sixty years.

She leaves in sorrow four daughters, Mrs. H. Geake and Mrs. D. McLeod, both of Victoria; Mrs. A. Vars, Arrowhead, and Mrs. G. Welborn, Los Angeles, and one son, J. W. Duncan, Victoria; two sisters, Mrs. A. Humber and Mrs. M. E. Jones, both of Victoria; several grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors. The remains will be laid at rest in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

TAX SURPLUS IS REPORTED

Esquimalt Municipality Has $1,199.08 More Than Estimated Collection

A surplus of $1,199.08 over the estimated collection of taxes delinquent and in arrears, in the Municipality of Esquimalt, was shown in the tax statement issued for the year, to the current month and presented at last evening's council meeting.

The estimated amount to be collected was $15,600, with $16,799.08 being collected. $6,917.23 of this amount was for taxes in arrears and $9,881.85, delinquent taxes.

Of the current taxes, including the general and debt rate and sewer rates and rentals, $69,081.12 was collected out of a total of $69,947.62. This leaves a balance of $866.50 to be collected.

Reeve Alexander Lockley reported on the Union of British Columbia Municipalities convention held recently at Nanaimo, commenting on the success of the parley.

SPECIAL MEETING

Due to the number of buildings belonging to the municipality, which are in a state of disrepair, the council will hold a special meeting next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock to deal with these properties and the advisability of tearing them down.

The subdivision of a lot on Vaughan Street into ten smaller lots, was approved by the council, and the offer of F. G. Aldous to survey them, at a cost not to exceed $85, was accepted.

In reply to a request from the Salvation Army, the council voted the sum of $25 towards their building fund. Approbation was also given an offer by the B.C. Electric to install a street light opposite the entrance to the Municipal Hall.

ITALO-GERMAN AXIS IS REAFFIRMED

Hitler declared, however, that the Rome-Berlin axis must not be interpreted as "the formation of a bloc aimed against other European states."

GENERAL UNDERSTANDING

"On the contrary," he said, "we are convinced that through this, our mutual labors, we best can serve not only the interests of our countries but beyond these the aim—close to our hearts—of a general international understanding.

"In this spirit Italy and Germany will examine and deal with their political tasks side by side, in order thus to counteract every possible attempt to divide the two nations or even to play one off against the other," he told the banquet guests.

The Reichsfuehrer closed his remarks by proposing a toast to Italy's King and "Emperor of Ethiopia" and to the welfare of Mussolini and Fascist Italy.

A brilliant company of more than 200 guests, including Cabinet members of the two nations as well as political and industrial leaders, heard the Fascist chiefs repledge Italian and German co-operation in the tangle of European affairs.

Turning to his host, Il Duce declared:

STRENGTHENED FRIENDSHIP

"Conversations which I have had with Your Excellency in these recent days have strengthened our friendship and immunized it against every attempt to disturb and divide it—from whatever quarter it may come."

Mussolini, fresh from witnessing extensive war manoeuvres in North Germany, praised the spiritual atmosphere of Brown-Shirted Germany" and eulogized Hitler as the creator of a new nation.

Italo-German solidarity, he said, is not the result merely of political calculations, but the expression of community interests.

It in nowise constitutes "a self-contained bloc which fearfully and suspiciously shuts itself off from the rest of the world," Il Duce declared, asserting Italy and Germany are ready to co-operate with all other peoples of good-will.

LITTLE ENTENTE

(Copyright, 1937, by Havas News Agency)

GENEVA, Sept. 27 (CP-Havas).—While Chancellor Hitler and Premier Mussolini reaffirmed the solidity of the Rome-Berlin axis in Germany today, a meeting perhaps as vital to the future of Central Europe—that of the Permanent Council of the Little Entente—took place in Geneva.

The statesmen constituting the Permanent Council, Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta of Czechoslovakia, Foreign Minister Victor Antonescu of Rumania and Premier Milan Stoyadinovitch of Jugoslavia, noted the following factors making for their common security:

CONTACTS WITH HUNGARY

1. For the first time since the end of the Great War the Little Entente states have opened direct contacts with Hungary, against which their defensive alliance was originally directed. The signing of a non-aggression agreement between Hungary and the Little Entente is being negotiated and, according to the Czechoslovakian spokesman, "an unwritten gentlemen's agreement" already exists.

2. Relations between the Little Entente and the Soviet Union are being stabilized. Czechoslovakia has a mutual assistance pact with the Soviet Union, and at a recent meeting Jugoslavia and Rumania recognized the compatibility of that pact with the Entente Covenant.

3. Relations between Germany and Czechoslovakia are improving, and anti-Czechoslovakian propaganda in Berlin has stopped.

FAKE PASSPORT RING DISCLOSED

Paris Police Seeking Link Between Counterfeiters And Bomb Outrages

PARIS, Sept. 27 (CP-Havas).—French police tried tonight to fit the discovery of an international counterfeit passport ring into the attempted bombing today of an army general's home and the disappearance last week of two prominent Czarist Russian emigres.

Investigation into recent bombings was spurred by discovery of a bomb in the home of General Gaston Pretelat, member of the Superior War Council.

The arrest in France and the free city of Danzig of thirty-one members of an alleged ring engaged in forging fraudulent passports was announced earlier today.

FATE STILL MYSTERY

Fate of General Eugene de Miller, head of the Federation of Russian Veterans, still remained a mystery. Whereabouts of General Nicholas Skobline, suspected by police of a part in his superior's abduction, also remained unsolved.

Authorities sought to verify an unidentified manufacturer's report that he saw General de Miller last Wednesday, shortly after he disappeared from his office. The Russian emigre, he said, was with two men in an automobile bearing Mexican licence plates.

IN MANY COUNTRIES

The counterfeiting network was said to extend through many European countries. Co-operation by British and Luxembourg authorities aided in rounding up the suspects.

Paula Silberstein, a beautiful German, was arrested on her return to the Continent from England as the alleged leader of the ring.

Seriously Hurt When Hit by Car

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (CP).—Eight-year-old Victor Hildebrandt was taken to hospital in a serious condition tonight after being struck by an automobile on Kingsway near his home.

Police said the youngster was crossing the street when the accident occurred. The car is said to have passed over the child, inflicting internal injuries.

A PART OF YOUR INCOME IS NOT YOURS
Some of the dollars in your pocket are not yours. They belong to the old man you will be some day as surely as if that older man's name were printed on them. Unfortunately they are not so marked, with the result that without being aware of it you may spend the older man's money as well as your own.
The only safe plan is to take that other money out of your pocket and put it into some safe place so you will not be tempted to spend it. Don't rob the old man. For many years that old man will need money to live on when he can no longer earn it.
A safe, sure place for his money—a place where it will be ready when he wants it, as he surely will—is The Imperial Life.
Spend and enjoy life according to your means, but don't use that part of your income which is the old man's. Get an Imperial Life policy to look after him—then the money that is left is yours to spend and enjoy as you like.

City Fiscal Agent To Receive $17,000 For Refunding Plan

Charles S. Henley, Negotiator of Debt Adjustment Plan, Agrees to Accept Sum From City Council for Time and Out-of-Pocket Expenses

AT a closed session yesterday morning, the City Council decided to pay Charles S. Henley, city fiscal agent, $17,000 to cover his fee and expenses in connection with the Jules E. Fortin debt adjustment plan. Payment will not be made until the plan is in full operation.

Aldermen W. T. Straith, Archie Wills and R. A. C. Dewar were not at the meeting.

Prior to the council meeting, Mayor Andrew McGavin conferred with Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, over details of the Fortin plan. Mr. Henley's fee was discussed at a finance committee meeting on the Mayor's return from the Legislative Buildings.

Mr. Henley last year offered to conduct debt refunding negotiations for a fee of $15,000, plus expenses, the sum to be paid whether or not refunding was successful. The council declined to accept the proposition, but later passed a by-law providing a fee of $30,000 for Mr. Henley upon completion of negotiations with bondholders. He was asked to pay half the expenses of a mission to Eastern Canada and London, to which he agreed.

GIVES DETAILS

At the meeting yesterday, Mr. Henley gave the council details of the time spent in negotiating with Mr. Fortin and bondholders. He stated his out-of-pocket expenses totaled nearly $7,000. He mentioned he was prepared to settle for $17,000.

On motion of Alderman Dr. J. D Hunter, seconded by Alderman T. W. Hawkins, the council decided to pay Mr. Henley the $17,000 on completion of debt refunding. Payment will not be made until the refunding plan has been fully approved by 51 per cent of the holders of City of Victoria bonds and endorsement by the Provincial Legislature through an order-in-council.

Following the fee discussion, the council examined a letter from the Oak Bay Council dealing with fire protection. Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan, chairman of the fire wardens, stated negotiations were proceeding with Oak Bay, and his committee expected to have a report ready for the next meeting. Alderman John A. Worthington wished fire wardens would keep in mind that Oak Bay should pay the full operating cost of Duchess Street fire hall if it was re-opened.

OAK BAY SURPRISED

Oak Bay's letter, over the signature of R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, stated the council was surprised to find that the city expected $18,000 per year for services from Yates Street fire hall.

"We have abstained from starting a fire department in order to give the city an opportunity to reconsider the situation. If we set up our own fire department, city taxpayers will have to make good $12,000 per year now received from Oak Bay. We are proceeding with a loan by-law to establish our own fire department. It is suggested that prompt action be taken if the city does not want to break off joint service," Mr. Blandy wrote.

The letter was referred to the fire wardens without comment from the council.

HER FINGER JOINTS BEGAN TO SWELL

Perfectly Straight at 63—Thanks to Kruschen

Nearly twenty years ago, this woman was attacked by severe rheumatism. Now sixty-three, she tells how Kruschen restored her to health, and has kept her free from rheumatism all these years:—

"In 1918, an attack of 'flu left me with severe rheumatism, and I was in bed three months. When I got up I could only hobble around with difficulty and pain. My finger joints were beginning to swell, and were very painful. I was told that nothing could be done for the swelling. A friend recommended me to try Kruschen Salts, which I did with very satisfactory results. Today, at sixty-three, my fingers are perfectly straight, I am free from rheumatism, and can do all my own housework."—(Mrs.) M. W.

Two of the ingredients of Kruschen have the power of dissolving the needle-pointed crrystals of uric acid which settle in your joints, causing them to swell, ache and inflame. Other ingredients of Kruschen assist Nature to flush out these dissolved crystals through the natural channels. (Advt.)

COUNCIL OBJECTS TO RACING MOVE

Strong objection to removal of the automatic betting machines at the Willows race track was registered by the City Council at a meeting yesterday morning. A letter was ordered dispatched to the Federal Department of Agriculture seeking reasons for the move.

A letter from Colwood Park Association, Ltd., explained that the betting machines were to be dismantled and a Pari-Mutuel system adopted. Machines were approved by the Federal Government and City Council on June 10, 1930.

"I do not think we can approve of anything of this kind," declared Mayor Andrew McGavin. "The association is liable for $70 per day for each day machines are not in use. I cannot understand the hurry to shut them down. Surely this is Hitler stuff. It is certainly not democracy. It is up to the city comptroller to collect $140 from the association for Saturday and Monday," he stated.

Alderman T. W. Hawkins informed the council the matter of removing machines had been raised several times in the past.

The letter from the association was referred to the finance committee, and a letter ordered dispatched to the Federal Department of Agriculture seeking a reason for removal of the machines.

FIGHTS RIGHT TO SALES TAX

Exchequer Court of Canada To Hear Argument in Victoria Case

The Exchequer Court of Canada, which is due to open its sittings here on Thursday, may not be able to do so. The sittings in Vancouver are taking longer than was expected and it may be that the court may have to delay coming to Victoria.

The only case to come before the court here is one taken by Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., representing the Tire Specialty Company, of this city, which engages in the retreading of automobile tires. On this work the Department of Excise claims the sales tax, which it is contended by Mr. Whittaker is outside the scope of the act.

W. P. Lawson is appearing for the department on the other side.

Sheriff H. W. Goggin will be advised by the court as to the date of the sitting here.

HOUSE DEBATES FEDERAL MOTION

tions from legal points of view and expressions of opinion, Mr. Maynard declared:

"The result of the Imperial Conference of 1926 and 1930 and the Statute of Westminster of 1931 was to make it amply clear that the power of disallowance no longer existed and could no longer be exercised.

"Consequently, the attempt of the Dominion Government to disallow the recent Alberta legislation is futile, for the action was clearly illegal and unconstitutional.

"This being the case, the three acts which the Dominion Government purported to disallow are still law, and will remain law until declared ultra vires by the courts.

"They being law, there is nothing standing in the Government's way to proceed to enforce them, providing it is the will of this Legislature that the Government should do so. The Government will be guided by the decision of the members of this resolution."

BILL GIVEN READING

First reading was given to the bill to impose on all banks operating in the province a tax of one-half of 1 per cent on their paid-up capital and of 1 per cent on their reserve fund and undivided profits.

The bill, entitled the Bank Taxation Act, provides the tax shall be payable this year fifteen days after the act comes into force, and in every subsequent year on April 1. Amount of the tax shall be determined, according to the bill, from figures as at March 31.

Penalties are provided for failure to pay the tax on the date it becomes due, or failure to submit "without any notice or demand" the returns necessary for the purpose of carrying out provisions of the act.

HEAVY PENALTY

Under the act, if default is made on payment of the tax, a penalty of 5 per cent of the tax will be added immediately, besides a further penalty of 1 per cent for each month or portion of a month during which the tax and penalty remain unpaid.

When persons responsible for providing returns necessary for computing the tax fail to supply the figures, they will be penalized $20 a day each until the returns are made and the bank shall be liable to pay a tax of double the amount of the original tax, the act states.

In answer, the officials said the report shows the intention of "some Japanese military powers" to bombard the embassy and then place the responsibility on Chinese shoulders.

Russia's note declared the Japanese suggestion the embassy be evacuated to avoid danger, was contrary to the principles of international law and "unprecedented" in international relations.

Chatterer and Sammy Jay Make Up

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When Chatterer the Red Squirrel heard Sammy Jay say that he was going straight to the Green Forest to tell Shadow the Weasel that Chatterer was living in the Old Orchard a great fear filled his heart. He forgot his quarrel with Sammy. He forgot his greed for all the corn in Farmer Brown's corn-crib. He forgot everything but his terrible fear of Shadow the Weasel. It was because of Shadow that Chatterer had left the Green Forest to live in the Old Orchard. If Shadow should find him here he didn't know what he could do or where he could go. He knew that Sammy Jay meant just what he said, for though it would be a dreadful thing to do, people do dreadful things when they are angry, and Sammy Jay was very, very angry, indeed. He had already spread his wings when Chatterer spoke.

"Please don't do that, Sammy Jay," he begged. "I—I—I didn't mean all the bad things I have said."

Sammy Jay's eyes snapped. He saw right away that Chatterer was very much frightened and he knew that in the future so long as Shadow the Weasel was anywhere around Chatterer would be so afraid that he would do anything Sammy might want him to. You see Sammy Jay is very sharp.

"Am I any more of a thief than you are?" he demanded.

"No-o-o," replied Chatterer slowly as if it were the hardest work to say it.

"Will you play any more tricks on me?" asked Sammy.

"No," replied Chatterer more promptly this time.

"Well, I'll think it over and make up my mind in the morning," said Sammy. "Perhaps I will and perhaps I won't tell Shadow where you are living. I'll think it over."

Now, Sammy knew perfectly well that Chatterer wouldn't sleep a wink that night for worrying. Already he had made up his mind not to tell Shadow, for like all the other little meadow and forest people he hated Shadow. But of cougse Chatterer couldn't know that. He had so made up his mind, and a great fear that Sammy might tell clutched his heart.

"If you'll promise not to tell Shadow where I am you—you are welcome to all the corn you want at Farmer Brown's corn-crib," said Chatterer in a very meek voice.

"Indeed," replied Sammy. "How very generous of you, seeing that it doesn't belong to you, anyway, and I have just as much right to it as you have."

"And—and—well, I'll help you get it," continued Chatterer, his sharp wits working their hardest to think of some way to get Sammy to make that promise.

"How?" asked Sammy suspiciously.

"Why, when you can't get it between the cracks I'll bring some out for you and hide it in the stone wall where you can find it," replied Chatterer. But in his heart he said he would hide it so that Sammy would have to hunt a long time to find it. It semed almost as if Sammy read that thought, for, cocking his head on one side, he said:

"I'll promise not to tell Shadow if you'll promise to get me corn whenever I want it and put it just where I tell you to."

Chatterer didn't like that idea at all, but what could he do? He thought it over so long that Sammy Jay spread his wings as if he was going to start that very instant for the Green Forest.

"I promise," cried Chatterer hastily.

"I promise," cried Chatterer hastily

And so these two scamps of the Green Forest made up and planned how they would live all the rest of Winter on Farmer Brown's corn.

Next story: Chatterer Has to Keep His Promise.

RECIPES TO END CONSTIPATION

Every woman can protect her family from common constipation by careful menu planning. Often the cause of illness from constipation is lack of "bulk" in the diet.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies this "bulk" in generous quantity.

You can use ALL-BRAN in so many delightful ways. As a ready-to-eat cereal with milk or cream, fruits or honey added. Or make delicious bran muffins and breads—put it into griddle cakes, salads or soups, or over other cereals.

Just be sure each member of your family gets two tablespoonfuls every day—and forget the illness caused by constipation. Serve three times daily, in severe cases.

You can also forget pills and drugs that nobody likes to take—and that so often fail unless the dose is constantly increased.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in London.

FEDERAL FINANCES

In a summary of conditions in Canada, The Montreal Gazette quotes Sir Edward Beatty as saying that the Dominion is soundly prosperous over more than 75 per cent of its total area. This conclusion must not be exaggerated in its effects on the future, for consideration must be given to the short crop of the current year. However, The Gazette says that the Maritime Provinces are enjoying greater prosperity than in many years, that Quebec and Ontario are uniformly prosperous, that the condition in Manitoba is "splendid," that Alberta is in a better position than Saskatchewan, where conditions are "definitely bad," and that British Columbia is the "bright spot of the Dominion," with general activity in mining, lumbering and manufacturing."

One sound evidence of the betterment of the economic outlook is the upward movement of Federal revenue collections, which have risen in the first five months of the fiscal year far above the estimate made in the last Budget. The total of the revenues collected in the five months was $243,882,870, whereas the estimate of the Minister of Finance for the whole year is $485,000,000, which means that in five months more than half that total has been secured. Income tax collections have increased by $14,500,000; excise revenue (with the sales tax) shows a gain of more than $16,000,000; Customs duties are up $6,500,000 and the Post Office returns show a gain of $1,000,000.

When Mr. Charles Dunning introduced his Budget, he estimated for a deficit of $35,000,000 for the current fiscal year, which he expected would be the amount that would represent the net cash deficit of the Canadian National Railways. It appears now as if, provided conditions continue to improve, there will be no deficit at all, perhaps even a surplus. With this in prospect, taxpayers will naturally look forward to reductions in taxation, but there was no promise of these made in the last Budget speech. What Mr. Dunning said was that with a balanced Budget the period will have arrived "when progress can be made in liquidating accumulated deficits which have been funded during the depression." That is the goal he has in sight. Revenue surpluses are to be devoted to debt reduction, which is a sound financial policy and one that could be implemented at a quicker rate if very obvious economies in government were put into effect. The present net direct debt of the Dominion is $3,006,100,517, and this does not take into account the debt of the Canadian National Railways for which the people are responsible. At present, interest on the public debt takes 25.47 per cent of all revenues collected and accounts for 30.39 per cent of all expenditures. Obviously it will be in the interest of the taxpayers to engage on a progressive policy of liquidating this debt. There should, however, be economies in administration undertaken that will, as well, lead to some remission of the imposts now shouldered by the taxpayers.

SOLVING THE DROUGHT PROBLEM

The Federal Minister of Agriculture has outlined the extent of relief to be given to the residents of the prairie drought area. Plans have been completed to move food supplies for man and beast into a large domain comprising 170 municipalities and municipal areas in Saskatchewan and forty in Alberta. Relief is to be supplied to 45,000 families whose existence is wholly dependent upon crop production. The Governments concerned appear to have laid plans of assistance with commendable thoroughness.

While the need for relief plans is immediate and urgent, it is no greater than the need to restore the stricken section to economic production by minimizing the ravages of drought as completely as lies within the compass of man. Reports from various sources indicate that the authorities have the matter in hand and are fully cognizant of the immensity and importance of their task. They will no longer be satisfied to drift along without a policy for the area, and there is no intention of wholesale abandonment of the area affected.

With an investment estimated at $1,100,000,000 in those parts of Southern Saskatchewan, Southwestern Manitoba and Southeastern Alberta, where there has been drought, the gigantic losses that would result from abandonment are obvious. There were errors in making that investment, as in most other big investments, yet the capital expended has brought big returns in the past. Proper management under a long-term policy, formulated in the light of past experience and modern technical knowledge, can restore the value of at least most of the investment.

A three-point programme of rehabilitation is now in the making and general plans are reported to have been practically decided. The first step will be the abandonment of unsuitable wheat land, estimated at less than 3 per cent of the wheat belt. This is land which experience long since has proved should never have been settled, being too light and generally receiving too little rainfall for economic production of grain. By returning it to sod, a somewhat difficult but not impossible task, a great deal of soil drifting will be checked and valuable pasturage for livestock will become available. The second step will be the establishment of small water conservation projects, where feasible, for stock needs and gardens. By this means the farmers will be able to supply their homes with a wide range of home-grown necessities in dry years when field crops might be a failure. In this way an average relief expenditure of $300 a family will be averted. The third step is the elimination of soil drifting and conservation of soil moisture by strip farming and improved cultural methods. Strip farming is cropping in long, narrow strips of land, alternated with strips of fallow, at right angles to the direction of prevailing winds. This prevents the winds whipping across the land unchecked and gathering great clouds of dust particles in the course of an expansive sweep.

Those concerned with rehabilitation are able to profit by the experience gained in the great dust bowl of the United States. There are indications that such huge and expensive irrigation projects as were undertaken in parts there are not necessary, and that relatively satisfactory results can be obtained by other means. The scourge of soil drifting and drought appears, in a general sense, to have been eliminated in those mid-western states, and there is every reason to believe that prosperity can be restored to a large part of Canada's dust bowl. There are, too, grounds for belief that Nature will come to the aid of man through a swing toward increased precipitation if weather cycles are to follow their established course. Several successive relatively wet years will be of great assistance in preparing for the dry years which will follow inevitably. In that time it will be possible to become so prepared that droughts like those of recent years will take a much less disastrous and widespread toll. A long-term policy is imperative, and fortunately for Canada's future one is in the making.

ENDEAVOR I SAFE

Endeavor I has in the annals of her record afloat a greater feat of seamanship than the winning of the America's Cup. Unaided, she has braved and conquered a hurricane in the Atlantic. She has been piloted across that ocean without assistance since she parted from her tow a few hundred miles out from the American coast. Lost track of by all means of communication for some weeks, she finally was sighted off the Irish coast with all well. There was more joy at Lloyd's at the ringing of the Lutine bell, which was the prelude to the tale of her safety, than there would have been if the America's Cup had been brought home. There were human lives involved in her disappearance for so long. They are safe, and a new feat of seamanship and a tribute to sturdy construction are what her crossing of the Atlantic means. One can well imagine the wave of joy which swept over a seafaring race at the news of the Endeavor's safety. For yesterday at least any news emanating from the Orient, Spain or the capitals of Europe was of secondary importance compared with the feat of seamanship performed by the captain and crew of Endeavor I.

British tourists are said to have spent anywhere from $125,000,000 to $300,000,000 on trips to Continental Europe during the past Summer. "L'Eclaireur, of Nice, says that indirectly this will benefit British trade because the money left in Europe will be spent either in buying English services or English goods. It is pointed out also that English visitors to the Continent are resuming the practice of buying luxuries, which eventually will help to raise standards of living both in and outside England. "When England is well," says L'Eclaireur, "the whole world is well."

"Who's Who in America" (1937 edition) contains the names of 31,434 persons who have attained some distinction in life. "Who's Who in Crime," published in the same country and whose author is Mr. J. Edgar Hoover, says that in the United States there are finger prints of 4,300,000 men and women who have offended against the laws. Thus in the neighboring republic one person in every twenty-nine has won an unenviable reputation and one in every 3,910 a reputation that counts for something in the scheme of things.

More especially in these latter days than ever before it is a good divine who follows his own instructions. Under New Deal legislation the Government of the United States has been going head over heels into debt, and yet Mr. F. D. Roosevelt, the President, says: "Any Government, like any family, can for a year spend a little more than it earns, but a continuation of that habit means the poorhouse."

Note and Comment

By Sandham Graves

It is characteristic of man that, having perfected the arts of writing and speaking, he should have become so mesmerized with words that he neglects the thing which most benefits his condition, action. Is anything wrong with the world? Let's have a meeting. Do we not like what we have got? Let's draft a resolution of protest to somebody else. Send a letter off here; send a letter off there; let the secretary do it, while we go home to our suppers. Of course, that is action of a kind; but not the type of action that moves as much as a flowerpot from one side of a verandah to another. It is not wholly by acident that boys brought up on the farm make the best headway later in life; they had no one to talk to or write to, when young. They got into the habit of milking the cows, because they found the cows would not milk themselves. They cut trees and hauled cordwood for Winter fires. They broke ground, put in seed, and reaped a harvest after personal effort and labor. It was action every foot of the way. I don't suppose they ever heard of a protest meeting or a resolution until they came in contact with the towns. It occurs, I believe, in the "Maid of the Mountains," that phrase: "Let's have a meeting." The Governor says it to his secretary, Crumpet, every time he gets into a little difficulty. It was meant for a comedy touch, but the joke is distinctly on us, because "let's have a meeting" has long ago ceased to be funny; it is fast becoming tragic. In the newspaper game one gets so that mere words convey little meaning; you watch where and with whom a man walks, rather than what he says, because that is action. Sometimes I think that Nature could have done more with a tongueless race of men; and that pity for dumb animals is waste of breath

So you think you have trouble? Perhaps, too, you have, but would you change places with your neighbor? I know a Great War veteran who was seriously wounded at the front, and who is today, twenty years afterwards, a total disability case. The other day his wife was taken to hospital for the amputation of a leg. So you think you have trouble? Consider the plight of another veteran, crippled in the war so badly that he has to be fed by hand. His wife for years earned the money needed to keep their home together, looked after her husband, who is as helpless as a little child. Last week they took her to hospital with appendicitis, which means six weeks out of circulation in a home that requires her attention daily. So you think you have trouble Have you heard of the man and woman who got married rather late in life, and whose dearest wish was for a little daughter. Their wish was granted, but now, after twelve years' constant treatment and attention, they have learned their child, through injury, will always be sub-normal. Do you think you have trouble? What would you say to the plight of one family of father, mother and two sons. The men are all able and willing to work, but they have seen no work in their trade for three years. The mother is an invalid. Their savings are gone, and now their home itself is in danger. So you think you have trouble? Well, perhaps you have, but would you change places with even your neighbor? Think twice before you jump at it, for most people are carrying burdens they never let the world know about. There were heroes enough in war; but there are heroes and heroines in peace. Walk the streets of your own community one day with your eyes open, and you will convince yourself that, after all, you only think you have trouble

"A" stands for Archibald, and what Archibald stands for is past all belief. Archibald is a cock pheasant, owned by a Colonist correspondent in Saanich. Long years ago, Archibald used to scratch in the correspondent's fields and strut along his rows of corn, carefree and valiant. Then someone leaned out of a motor car on the highway and shot him. The correspondent got there first. He had Archibald stuffed by a taxidermist. Every year now in the hunting season, when he is feeling a little blue, the correspondent places Archibald out in a field near the public highway. Every second car passing contains hunters, and almost without exception they stop to take a pot-shot at Archibald, sitting on the ground. More often than not, the hunters do not get out of their cars, but fire from the wheel, as it were. Some days Archibald takes a lot of punishment. He has been shot as many as 122 times before lunch, and every shot fired at him is fired in contravention of the game laws of this Province. Today, I am assured, Archibald is so full of lead that he could not fall down even if hit by the car, let alone by a charge of birdshot. Sometimes it is even buckshot. My friend is waiting until a hunter brings out a machine gun to have a pot-shot at Archibald. Then he will retire the poor old bird, which already looks a little bedraggled about the tail. It's great sport this, shooting birds "on the wing" Ask Archibald. He knows!

It looked like a terrible accident. The truck came down the hill plainly out of control, towards the street car tracks. A street car was coming towards that corner. Stoically, a woman watched her son making vain efforts to avert disaster. The strain was terrific, but still she did not cry out. On came the street car. On came the truck. It looked as if they must collide with terrible consequences. Just then the truck struck a stone at the side of the road, almost as high as its radiator cap. The truck wobbled crazily, fell on its side, rolled over and over, and finally came to rest in a ditch. Stoically, the woman watched her small son pick up the truck and put it back in his pocket, along with a jack-knife, a nail and two pieces of string. Only a little of the red paint at the bonnet had been scratched off the toy. Can you imagine it?

Those long green troughs for thirsty dogs take the eye of the visitor. ### Conceal Your Bushel

It takes some quick thinking to smuggle vegetables past the Marketing Control Board guards on the Fraser River bridge, and also a good follow up—if you want to keep out of trouble. A civil servant from Victoria was traveling across the bridge with a contraband sack of potatoes that he had bought tied to his front bumper when he was accosted by a guard. "O, a friend game them to me," he shot back at the upholder of the law's question. Under the circumstances he was allowed to carry them through after giving name and address. A couple of weeks later a gentleman knocked at the smuggler's back door and enquired of his wife how the sack of potatoes, that had been given him, were coming along. It was the wife's turn to think quickly as she allayed the fears of the second government man to the effect that the "gift potatoes" were quite all right, thank you.—W.I.F.

Philosopher Horace

Horace asserts that those who boast of ultra-modern ideas have but two. One is that they want every luxury. The other is that they do not want to work hard . . . In mailing a cheque for his taxes in a small English town, a taxpayer enclosed the following note: "Although I shall now have to curtail my holiday joys, I wish you and your staff a happy holiday, for you must make the most of your brief pleasures in this world, and may the Lord have mercy on you in the next" . . . Cougar was showing a friend his new heavy double-barreled shotgun. "Does it kick?" he was asked. "It sure does," Cougar answered. "Once at Sooke I shot at a bear that came charging at me. I missed my mark. On came the bear with murder in its eye. The gun kicked so hard that I was thrown out of the bear's path and given time to reload both barrels again" . . . Horace knows a Vancouver man who spent a long holiday in Germany and did not treat his wife as well as formerly when he returned. She went to a lawyer and asked for a decree "Nazi."—G.B.

Glancing Over Sport

Victoria Dominoes should be 50 per cent stronger this season than last with the announcement last Saturday that Willie "Moose" Rogin, noted Windsor basketball star, would be playing with the former Canadian champions. Rogin is probably the finest shooting forward in the Dominion. His record since he entered senior company proves this. With the "Moose" working on the rear flank with Chuck Chapman the Dominoes will present one of the strongest defences in Canadian basketball. Rogin's scoring ability will, no doubt, help the team throughout the schedule . . . All the winners on the big fight card in the Polo Grounds the other night are already tied up by a fellow named Mike Jacobs. That's not even news. Mike has everybody in the fighat came, champions and top-ranking challengers, under his finger tips . . . Harry Jaffra, new bantamweight champion of the world, is a former caddie. He is a top-notch golfer, and was going to turn professional until the squared circle got the best of him . . . Now Mike Jacobs is after a bout between Champion Lou Ambers and Henry Armstrong, the sensational colored boxer, who has been knocking them over with monotonous regularity. The crafty Jewish promoter is also looking around for someone to fight Max Schmeling in Miami next February . . . Congratulations to Bert Haynes, new caddie champion at the Oak Bay links. Bert shot a great 72, three over par, to win the honors in a walk.—J.D.

Good Luck, Boys

Wednesday League footballers will pry the lid off another season tomorrow afternoon with a double bill at the Royal Athletic Park. With a four-team loop, the mid-weekers should provide some good football for the fans. We look forward to a good race, with the final standing in the Hayward Cup competition being close. Navy, with its best team in many seasons, will undoubtedly be the choice for the honors, but unless we are mistaken the sailors are going to meet with stiff opposition before the season is far advanced. Spencers, with some new material, will be in the thick of the fight, and the Hudson's Bay, defending champions, must be considered. Capilanos, a new entry with Eddie Rutledge at the helm, promise to have a good team. All-in-all, everything points to a successful league. We certainly hope such will be the case. Good luck, boys!—S.T.

DERIVATION OF WORDS

Sir,—Mr. Robert Connell's article, "In the Highlands," was an unusually interesting subject, in your Sunday edition, but is deserving of a certain amount of criticism, which by a clergyman will, no doubt, be well received.

He says, "It is well known that the 'pens' come down to us from the ancient Celts, who have left us another form (of the syllable or word) in Scotland and Ireland, where we have 'bens' instead of 'pens.'"

The "ancient Celt" and the "modern Celt" still talk the same language, with very little variation in the phonetic sounds. Until the days of St. Columba and the Celtic Church, there was no known alphabet in Britain, but St. Columba and his helpers introduced one which preserved the gutturals of the language. The earliest versions of this written English spread to Iona and the North of England. The same alphabet is still distinguished in the Gaelic Bible.

Now the Romans came and Christianized England at the point of the sword, as it were, and in much the same way as the modern Romans carred the Roman civilization into Abyssinia, or Ethiopia. St. Columba's version of Christianity was different to that of the Roman. He taught that salvation was free, and that it could not be injected into any nation by force of arms, used as a church accessory. Christianity was for the individual, and not for the masses through any special dispensation or personage, or church.

Here we come to Mr. Connell's "pens." It is largely found in those Gaelic speaking areas into which the Romans penetrated, and in present day Welsh, still has its real meaning—"head." It is used to denote a headland, when the headland is at the end of the land, as a cape, or similarly the upthrust end of the land which is a mountain reaching skyward. In English we speak of Fort William at "the head of the lakes," of the mountain at "the head of the chain," and of the "head" man in business or government.

The Gaelic word for "head" is "cheann," and this "ch" sound is the most important sound in language. To St. Columba it meant spritual or divine power—the salvation—which is free to all. The Roman civilization sought to conceal this meaning in Celtica, which today in Gaelic is pronounced Galtaychu, or "land of the Gaelic races or nations." The Latins preferred a spiritual dictatorship to a free salvation, and their religion is still built upon this insecure foundation. St. Columba's teaching succumbed to Roman swords subsequent to the Synod of Whitby in the fourth or fifth century, when the Roman religion replaced the Celtic religion, after the Roman armies had "civilized" the Britons. There were many "Shanghais" in Britain for the Gaelic speaking people, as a result of that civilization, and the schism is still apparent between the established and non-established churches.

The guttural sound "ch" was abolished, when possible, by the Roman religion, but elsewhere all over Europe and Asia, it still has its original meaning, as in church, c(h)ure, chair, chantry, care, charity, Christ, etc.; and the non-guttural Romans gave us "pen" instead of "cheann."

Now we read in our Bibles that Jesus was fond of going up to the Mount of Olives to pray. So were the older prophets. We have been taught that "heaven" is "up," and that "hell" is mysteriously "down." Maybe there was a good reason for Jesus to pray on top of a mountain, instead of at sea level.

The Gaelic sound for "life" is "bay" or "vay," depending on phonetics. In language it is BH, ea, THA. The "vay" brings us to the French "vie," and the Latin "vita." One readily sees the similarity between the Gaelic Bheatha, and the Latin vita, for the BH of Gaelic is sounded as "bay," or "vay," and the whole BH signifies the "power of life." We now cut out the H in the Roman fashion. We render "H" silent, leaving us merely "B," and we add the adjective "N" and obtain BN or "ben," which is a place of "divine" life, a place fit to pray on, or a mountain like the Mount of Olives.

Mr. Connell, speaking of mountains, very aptly closes with this:

A presence that disturbs them with the joy
Of elevated thoughts; a sense sublime
Of something far more deeply interfused.

By the way, cheann is the head or place of spiritual power. From it we get names like king, Canmore, Canute, etc., which are supposedly Saxon. We have cheann-terre or Kent, and Canterbury, the town of the district at the end of the land. There is also Cantyre in Scotland, which is another "end" of the land.

The word "ben" is Anglicized Gaelic, and the word "pen" is Anglicized Phoenician, brought to Wales and Cornwall by a non-guttural and Mediterranean race, who probably, like the Italians, were good singers.

D. S. MORRISON.

R.M.D. 3, Victoria, BC., Sept 13, 1937.

SOCIAL CREDIT

Sir,—In a recent editorial regarding Social Credit in Alberta you wrote: "Premier Aberhart obviously never knew what the creed connotes, or else he would have attempted to put it into force long ago."

As a matter of fact, quite substantial progress was made in an attempt to put Social Credit into effect, some considerable time ago. In connection with that effort, about 85 per cent of the wholesalers and manufacturers in the Province pledged their co-operation. Advance along the lines at that time intended was halted, however, when the banks intimated to these people that they would not finance them if they co-operated with the Government. This action on the part of the banks necessitated a change in procedure, with resultant delay; and, incidentally, afforded an illustration of the power which those who control money have to thwart the will of the electorate.

Canadian banks efficiently render indispensable services, but those who control them have influence over governments which a private monopoly ought not be permitted to have. A former Mr. Rothschild declared that if he were allowed to control a country's money and credit, he would not care who made its laws. The oft-quoted Mr. McKenna is said to have stated that "they who control the credit of the nation direct the policy of governments, and hold in the hollow of their hands the destiny of the people." The exercise by banks of such wide powers is inconsistent with democracy.

Banks are empowered by government charters to monetize credit. These institutions, though they derive their powers from the government, exercise a power superior to that of governments. It follows, therefore, that a change in our method of public financing is greatly to be desired.

Since the Government confers upon banks authority to monetize credit, it is clear that the Government could perform this function itself. The Liberal party, during the last Dominion election, promised government control of money and credit, but, though they assert that this is a Federal prerogative, seem now content to leave it in private hands. This is the more remarkable when you consider the unhappy plight of the million Canadians who are still on relief, and of the hundreds of thousands of others who, through our blind adherence to a system that ought to be scrapped, are also denied access to the plenty which is their birthright.

GEO. J. JOHNSON.

Paldi, B.C., September 18, 1937.

EARLY TIMES

Sir,—After the passing of my twenty-sixth birthday fifty-two years ago on September 7, there sailed from San Francisco the steamship Queen of the Pacific, which at that time was the largest metal ship sailing the Pacific Ocean. At 10 a.m. the signal to let go was sounded, and the 170 passengers lined the rail to bid farewell to their friends, the writer being one of them.

The first day out was bright, and a dead calm; the same the second, until 7 p.m., when a rainstorm overtook us with a roaring gale, and at 8 o'clock all were in their berths trying to retain their suppers. At 7 a.m. on the 9th, only three of the passengers turned up for breakfast. The wind had not abated any, and at 9 a.m. the crew were ordered to set the three square topsails that adorned the foremast. I had the thrilling pleasure of watching them as the ship rolled almost rail under. The crew had barely reached the deck when a terrific blast of wind blew the three sails to shreds. The order was given to bend a new set, and it was shortly afternoon when that work was completed, but the ship still rolled and plunged her way along till shortly after dark, when we entered the Strait of San Juan.

Then in a few hours we heard the cable rattling out of hawse pipes and knew that the anchor would soon have us secure for the night, as the customs officers of those days did not come on duty till 7 a.m., by which time we were tied up alongside Rithet's pier on the 10th.

Then I had the pleasure of stepping on British soil again after a sojourn of three years in California, where I had been employed in the Central Pacific Railway shops in Sacramento.

My room mate on the way up was a Mr. McCullough, about my own age. We took a hack and went to the Occidental Hotel, still at the corner of Johnson and Wharf Streets, kept then by Luke Pither. We spent a few days walking around, and at the end of a week I had decided that I would like to live and die here.

Looking back, I shall never forget that beautiful morning as we drove to the hotel along a road that paralleled a large field, now known as the James Bay district, then along in front of the old Parliament Buildings and the early Spencer home, still standing as a monument to that industrious family. Then across the old bridge that crossed the vile-smelling mud flats where an old soap works was located, the refuse from which was an eyesore to the public.

At this time there were about forty saloons, adorning nearly every corner and some between corners. They were open day and night, seven days a week. Then came a revival, and the saloons were compelled to close during church hours, and a year later they had to close all day Sundays and hang up their shutters at 9 p.m. weekdays. Then came prohibition, after which, well, it is pretty hard to form any opinion. Even though I am still living in one of the most beautiful districts in Canada, or, I am safe to say, in North America, as I have crossed the continent three times between the C.N.R. and the Gulf of Mexico, and into the Yukon three times, I have yet to see any place that would entice me to move away from the clear, pure atmosphere which surrounds Victoria and its districts.

It would take me weeks to write about all I have seen and been through since landing here in 1885.

W. E. LOSEE.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of September 28, 1887)

Y.M.C.A. Convention—British Columbia delegates to the fourth annual convention of the Pacific Northwest Y.M.C.A. passed through Victoria last evening from Dalles, Oregon. They report this the most successful convention yet held. Fifty-three delegates were present, representing twenty-four associations, against nine associations last year in the district. Seven of these are college associations. Major Hardie, of Alabama, a member of the international executive committee, and C. S. Mason, State secretary of California, were present and sat as delegates, rendering valuable aid to the convention, which was composed almost exclusively of young men—earnest, consecrated, determined laborers in the Master's vineyard.

Local Briefs—T. Davie, M.P.P., purchased the old Volunteer Fire Department property at an auction held by Joshua Davies yesterday, for $1,100. A party consisting of Messrs. O. B. Hardy, F. Richards, Sr., F. W. McCullough, F. W. Richards, Jr., and several others visited the Sooke copper mines yesterday on the steamer Saturna. They returned in the evening.

"C" Battery—Yesterday afternoon Lieut.-Col. Holmes, acting D.A.G., received a telegram from Sir A. Caron, Minister of Militia, directing him to prepare quarters for the reception of "C" Battery. The preparations will probably take two weeks, and as soon as Colonel Holmes reports everything ready, the battery will start for this station, and will arrive about the end of October.

Fast Rally Puts Upward Move in New York Mart

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—Stocks smashed through selling lines in today's market and finished with gains running to five or more points.

The list got off to a fast rally at the opening, but a disturbing break in U.S. Steel brought in sufficient offerings to cancel advances in many cases and replace them with losses. The ticker tape was in arrears both on the up and downsides.

Buying forces took a fresh rallying grip around noon and from then on the forward push continued to the end. Most leaders, including "Big Steel," closed at or near their best of the day.

Brokers thought the right-about probably was inspired by the belief of speculative circles that the market recently had been subjected to so much pressure it was due for at least a temporary reversal and traders got aboard for a quick ride.

Copper shares jumped to the fore in the face of a reduction in the domestic price of the metal from 14 to 13 cents a pound, the first cut since April 29. Another cut in the price of lead was also posted.

Transfers amounted to 2,209,430 shares compared with 2,482,010 last Friday.

The bond market hurried along on an uneven course today with price swings in both directions ranging up to four points or so. Heaviest turnover was on the upside.

Federal loans tended to falter, with losses running up to 6-32 of a point, while gains, in the minority, were held to 5-32.

Foreign dollar bonds were uneven. Japanese loans dropped fractions to over two points on active dealings, while German and Italian issues tended to thrust forward.

EXPORT DEMAND BOOSTS MARKET

WINNIPEG, Sept. 27 (CP).—Export demand for Manitoba wheat with sales placed at about 750,000 bushels held the spotlight in a bullish market on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Though profit-taking and hedging sales increased near the close, final quotations were 2 5-8 to 1 1-2 cents higher, October at $1.30 5-8; November, $1.30 1-8; December, $1.25 7-8 and May, $1.25 3-4.

A big export business in United States wheat and higher Liverpool prices led to two-cent gains at the opening on liberal investment buying. Later exports, mill and Eastern firms offered support and prices shot up more than three cents.

Liverpool closed 2 1-2d to 2 1-8d higher on good buying induced by withdrawal of Russian high grade wheat offers. Buenos Aires at noon had advanced 1 5-8 to 1 cent.

Keen demand for cash wheat from exporters, shippers, mills and terminal interests led to premiums advancing four cents in early deals. However, buyers backed away from supplies offered 12 cents above the October wheat future and No. 1 Northern eased to close to 10 1-2 cents above October future.

Coarse grains moved higher in sympathy with wheat.

SEEK ABDUCTOR OF CHICAGO MAN

Charles S. Ross, Retired Manufacturer, Kidnapped From Hotel By Three Thugs

CHICAGO, Sept. 27 (AP).—A mysterious "man in a grey cap" was hunted today as a key figure in the kidnapping of aged Charles S. Ross. He became the object of an intensive search after forty-two hours passed without word from the retired manufacturer or his abductors.

Ross, seventy-two and in delicate health, had dined on Saturday night at the Fargo Hotel in Sycamore Hill, about fifty miles west of Chicago, with Miss Florence Freihage, forty-five-year-old secretary in the greeting card firm, headed by Ross, until his retirement several years ago. They were en route home when his captors, believed to number three, forced Ross from his expensive sedan and carried him away in their car.

GREW TAKEN OFF VESSEL

Freighter Lackenby, Broadside to Shore, Threatens To Break Up

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 27 (CP).—Jagged rocks ripped holes in steel plates of the 5,000-ton British freighter Lackenby tonight as her captain and officers remained aboard to supervise possible salvage operations.

Although the ship's No. 1 hold had already filled with water, it was believed there was still a chance to haul the Lackenby off the mile-long reef on which she was wedged, if seas calmed down enough in the next twenty-four hours. The freighter grounded on the southern tip of Bell Island last night.

Twenty-eight members of the Lackenby's crew were removed from the ship today by the steamship Maneco Baronet and taken to Wabana, Bell Island mining town.

Twenty-four countries were represented at the Friends' World Conference held earlier in the month at Philadelphia, Floyd Schmoe, a member of the faculty of the University of Washington, told the quarterly meeting of the Society of Friends (Quakers) who gathered in the Meeting House, Fern Street, Friday and Saturday.

Methods of achieving economic, racial and international justice; 4. The Friends' contribution to education; 5. International co-operation of Friends.

An account of her motor trip across the United States, and the work of the conference, was given Sunday evening by Phyllis Awmack. She described the manner in which 1,000 delegates were housed in Swartmore and Haverford Colleges, near Philadelphia. Fellowship groups of fifty met daily and discussions of the commissions were made. Later the groups reported to the conference.

SENSE OF BROTHERHOOD

She was impressed she said with the wonderful sense of brotherhood which prevailed.

Since it was believed that the newly-inspired Friends would be living epistles it was felt unnecessary to issue any statement after the conference beyond reports of proceedings.

At Sunday evening's gathering, the chairman Joseph Haeggart, stressed the value of the World Conference as a means of aiding greater friendship between the nations. He maintained that if the nations knew each other better, war would become impossible.

Wedding Is Celebrated Up-Island

The marriage took place at First United Church, Port Alberni, on Sunday at 10 a.m., of Barbara Joan, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Griffiths, Port Alberni, and Mr. Leonard George Robinson, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Robinson. Rev. A. McLean officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of white velvet, the full skirt made with a square-cut train, and the bodice was shirred at the neckline. Her lovely veil of Brussels net, which had been worn by her mother at her wedding twenty-six years ago, was fashioned with hand-made lace corners and was held to her head with a triple strand of orange blossoms. The bride carried a sheaf of Calla lilies. The bridesmaid was Miss Peggy Griffiths, sister of the bride, wearing a gown of pink velvet, made with shirred sleeves and the bodice shirred from the waist to the high neckline. She wore a pink velvet turban and carried a bouquet of gladioli and rosebuds. Mr. Richard Hilton was best man.

The church was beautifully decorated with pink, mauve and white asters and gladioli. During the service Mrs. J. B. Wood, at the organ, played the accompaniment for Mr. Bob Evans, who sang "At Dawning." Mr. George Trotter and Mr. Fred Archer were the ushers.

WEDDING BREAKFAST

After the service, a reception was held in the new home of the bride and groom, where Mrs. Griffiths, wearing blue georgette with navy blue accessories, and Mrs. Robinson, the mother of the groom, in a gown of lavender silk with brown accessories, received the guests. The buffet refreshment table was attractively decorated, and in the place of honor was the wedding cake. Ivory tapers, tied with silver tissue, added to the artistic appearance of the setting. The cake was cut by the bride with a silver wedding knife used by the groom's grandfather and grandmother.

LEAVE FOR HONEYMOON

After a honeymoon in the United States, for which the bride left wearing a rust-colored duvetyne dress, a velvet hat and a brown lapin coat, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson will live in their new house on Argyle treet, Port Alberni.

Silver Fox and Sable Add Glamour to Suits Whether They Be Pencil Slim or Flared of Line

By LISBETH

THOSE who did not take advantage of the August sales to buy their Winter coats, frocks or suits, are still interested in such matters as the very newest silhouette and trimmings.

The pencil slim line is always good this season, but a rather modified flare also is sponsored by the very best couturiers. It is shown in both suits, full-length coats and dresses, such as the model Gail Patrick is wearing at the left of our illustration.

Travis Banton, Hollywood style creator, uses burnt brown shades for this costume, to wear a daytime frock of brown wool with a deep hemline of sable. The neckline is high and severe, and a stole of sable may be arranged in a variety of ways.

DRAPERY IMPORTANT

Drapery is an important part of the new season's fashions. Miss Patrick wears a black crepe daytime dress, shown at right, also created by Travis Banton. The skirt is short and straight, and narrow panels of the crepe extend down over the skirt and up under the hem.

Silver foxes and a sophisticated hat of black velour trimmed in paradise feathers, carry out the unusual distinction of this costume.

Darker colors are prophesied for the coming season by no less an authority than Lucien Lelong, who has come over from Paris for a visit. Dark greens, brown and black are likely to be greater favorites than the more vivid colors which have been favored for Summer, he claims. However, a great many women have worn black, navy and brown almost exclusively this Summer. I do not recall a season, indeed, when so much black has been seen.

Skirts, both for daytime and evening, are slightly shorter, Lelong declares, although no exact length has been mentioned.

SLIM LINES HIS CHOICE

Slim lines, in spite of various types of draping, are his choice for Winter.

As to waistlines, they continue interesting and varied. Very wide girdles outline waspwaist in some models; draped effects lower the line in others, bringing it around the hips; while the normal line is maintained in the everyday dresses, even when the belts are wider and in vivid contrast to the dress.

The bride was given in marriage by Colonel Playfair, of Sunset Inn, Qualicum Beach. The guests were received by Mrs. Alcorn and Mrs. Leslie Dash, and after the ceremony they sat down to a wedding luncheon. The table decorations were pink and white asters with a wedding cake in the centre.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Rasmussen, Vancouver; Mrs. C. Rasmussen, Rochester, Minn.; Col. and Mrs. Playfair and Miss Margaret Greig Qualicum.

Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead will reside here at 121 Menzies Street. Mrs. Olmstead was formerly Miss Helen Snow, of Woodstock, N.B.

BRAY—MURRAY

A quiet but pretty wedding took place Saturday night at the home of the bride's mother, when Jeannette Margaret Elizabeth, second daughter of Mrs. M. Murray, of "Dalmeny," Colwood, and the late Mr. Robert B. Murray, became the bride of Mr. Edward Bray, third son of Mrs. M. Bray, Victoria, and the late Mr. Richard Bray. Rev. A. deB. Owen officiated. The wedding march was played by Miss Dola Hughes, niece of the bride.

The rooms were prettily decorated with Autumn flowers and foliage, the bridal party standing beneath a floral arch and white wedding bell. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Andrew Murray, looked lovely in a floor-length gown of pale pink silk net over pussywillow taffeta with broad hemline of taffeta applique, and jacket to match. Her mittens were of pale pink net, and she wore a bandeau of orange blossoms in her hair, and carried a shower bouquet of Columbia rosebuds, pink carnations, white heather and fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Adria Murray, who wore a gown of Nile green ruffled silk net over taffeta, with orchid mittens and poke bonnet in green with orchid velvet ribbon. She carried a bouquet of orchid bebe gladioli and fern.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. William Bray.

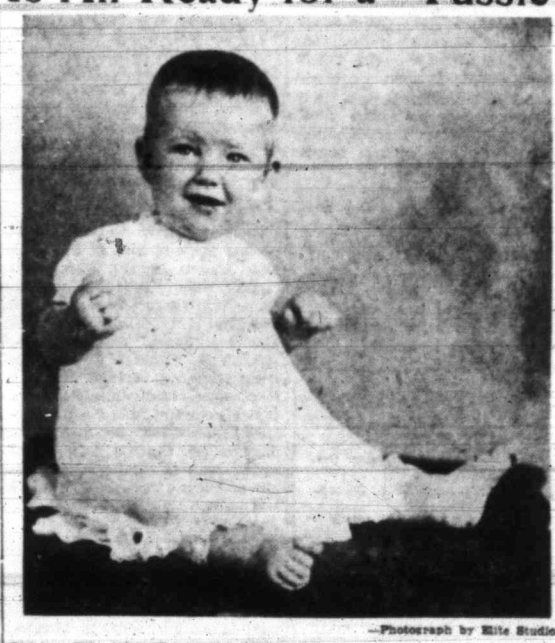

Mrs. Murray, who was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Bray, wore a becoming gown of black chiffon velvet, while Mrs. Bray wore a silk crepe gown in terra cotta shade. They both wore corsage bouquets of talisman roses and fern. The three-tier wedding cake centred the supper table, which was decorated in pink and white, with silver vases of pink carnations and fern.

The bride and groom left for an extended honeymoon in the South. For traveling the bride wore an imported brown ensemble with wolf collar, brown velour hat and matching accessories. On their return, they will make their home in Victoria.

Softer Whistles Spoiling Sleep

WATERLOO, Ont., Sept. 27 (CP).—The Grand River Railway substituted new soft whistles for the old shrill ones of their radials because of complaints of a new family who moved near the track. Now, believe it or not, several complaints have been received from citizens who claim they lose sleep because they miss the old screeching.

Travelogue Entertains Rest Haven

Some exceptionally fine moving pictures photographed in color by Herbert J. Pendray, of the British America Paint Company, Victoria, during the recent tour made with Mrs. Pendray through Africa, north to Cairo and Europe, were shown by him to a large audience in the lounge of the Rest Haven Hospital last Wednesday evening.

The first reels shown consisted of pictures, vibrating with life and color, of the Coronation pageant in London and a trip through the city viewing many of the larger buildings brilliantly decorated for the occasion.

From Capetown, via Mossel Bay, Algoa Bay, Zululand, through Natal to Johannesburg and Pretoria into the Belgian Congo, including a three days' trip on the Congo River, thence via Cairo to Istanbul, some excellent scenes depicting native life and customs were projected. Among these and exhibiting a kaleidoscope of color were groups of natives of various tribes, in Johannesburg and the Belgian Congo, arrayed in colorful ceremonial dress, engaged in tribal dances.

Rounds of applause given at the close of each reel gave evidence of appreciation. W. E. Perrin, business manager at Rest Haven, thanked Mr. Pendray for his kindness in providing a highly instructive and enjoyable evening.

MRS. CHARLES A. WATSON

TODAY'S RECIPE

COOKED Endive — If you want to surprise the family with a grand new vegetable, try this method of cooking endive, advocated by a famous chef in a New York hotel. Clean the endive well, and be certain it is fresh and crisp. Put it in a flat pan with salt, pepper, the juice of one whole lemon and one-quarter of a pound of butter. Add sufficient water to cover. Place buttered white paper over endive and bake in slow oven for about forty minutes.

One-Piece Zipper Dress

The high placement of the crescent-shaped pockets are a cunning detail of this navy blue cotton poplin school dress. It is a one-piece affair and quickly run up on the sewing machine. Perky puffed shoulder sleeves—a swishy flared skirt also attract attention. She will be ready for school in a flash. A bright red slide fastener zips it right up to the crisp white pique collar. Ideal, too, in Scotch plaid wool or cotton. A diagrammed instruction sewing chart included.

Style No. 2010 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2¼ yards of 39-inch material with ⅜ yard of 39-inch contrasting.

The Fall and Winter Fashion Book is filled with lovely designs for everyday wear, which are easy and inexpensive to make.

London Becoming Fashion Centre Of Whole World

LONDON, Sept. 27 (C.)—Paris is said to be looking to her laurels since another of her great designers, Maggy Rouff, has joined Molyneux and Schiaparelli in opening a large London establishment. Fashion shows in London this season have been more elaborate than ever before.

Main highlights of collections shown recently are the high waistlines, the tight skirts that compelled the mannequins to walk one foot before the other, the wide, wide skirts for dancing, the predominance of red and rust tones—the town is seeing red galore—the tinting of ermine wraps to orchid beige—a soft pinkly tone—and the popularity of nutria and other furs dyed bronze brown of natural seal.

Though London society is flocking to fashion shows, Royalty is choosing new fashions without visiting town. Tinted water-color drawings are made of new models that her dressmakers believe might be to the Queen's taste and are sent to her with samples of fabrics. When she decides on a gown, the design is immediately withdrawn from further showing and is made exclusively for Her Majesty.

Designing gowns for Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mary and the Duchesses of Glousester and Kent has its own particular little difficulties. Care must be taken that there is a firm foundation on which to wear decorations of various orders, and also that the colors will not clash with the uniforms with which they are surrounded on formal occasions. Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary are fitted at home. The Duchesses, on the other hand, are sometimes to be seen at their dressmakers.

Marjorie Dunton, a Canadian designer whose name ranks with the great houses, has made a specialty of the use of leopard fur for muffs and handbags made to match.

Another successful Canadian in the public eye, on the stage, is Lvova, or, as she was known at home, Betty Low, of Ottawa, a member of the Russian Ballet popular with Covent Garden audiences during the past two seasons. Her twenty-first birthday a few days ago was celebrated with a surprise party given by the entire company and the presentation of a garnet ring and bracelet.

TWO VICTORIANS AT CONVENTION

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, prominent Victoria florists, attended the twenty-eighth annual convention of the International Florists' Telegraph Delivery Association, where the new flower styles of 1937-38 are being created.

A feature of the convention was a two-day school of floral design. The newest methods of make-up and design were demonstrated by a staff of artists renowned throughout the country for their artistry and skill. Charles H. Grakelow, prominent Philadelphia florist and the association's schoolmaster, was in charge of the school, which was attended by more than 3,500 florists from all parts of the world.

A spectacular climax to the convention proceedings was a flower and fashion show staged in Philadelphia's huge convention hall before an audience of 150,000 people. The latest style offerings from Paris, New York and Hollywood were modeled by 170 mannequins. Every ensemble had its proper flower adornment—each created especially for that particular costume.

Featured at the show was a parade of "America's Brides of the Season." More than a score of the outstanding brides of 1937 appeared, wearing their own wedding gowns and carrying flowers designed by F.T.D artists.

"Ladies and Gentlemen," shouted the street corner salesman, "I have here a flexible comb that will stand any kind of treatment. You can bend it double, you can hit it with a hammer, you can twist it, you can——"

"Can you comb your hair with it?" inquired an interested listener.

BOTH WAYS

An educational authority thinks that savings-bank boxes in the home are apt to make a child miserly.

Further observation tends to suggest that they also teach parents to become bank robbers.

Racing Schedule Ends at Willows After Fine Meet

Two Weeks' Programme Comes to Finish and Betting During Session Is Reported to Be Ten Per Cent Better Than Last Year —Dead Heat Witnessed

Another chapter in British Columbia's horse racing history was written yesterday at the Willows track when one of the most successful meetings staged at the local enclosure since pre-depression days was brought to a close.

Victoria race-goers gave the meet grand support and attendance marks of other years went by the boards. Wagering was up 10 per cent over that of last season. Better thoroughbreds, better jockeys and the form displayed by the bangtails all helped to make the meeting one to be long remembered.

Yesterday's galloping provided many thrills for the large "going-away" day crowd getting their final "fling" of the season at the "Sport of Kings." Two dead heats, and a thrilling finish in the fourth race where two heads separated the three top mounts were the highlights of a fine racing card.

Victorians shared in their first double one-two bet in the history of galloping when Suneur and Oh Dave, second horses in the Quinella bet, came home in a dead heat. Love Sick was the winner. Holders of tickets on Love Sick and Oh Dave received $8.70, exactly $1 more than those holding pasteboards on Love Sick and Suneur.

Some Turley, three-year-old filly owned by Mrs. G. Simon, paid the longest win price of the day when she took the fourth gallop of the afternoon at five and one-half furlongs. Punters with nose bet tickets collected $11.65. Phoebe Jo, second choice mount, was second, and Rube Wilson third. Nanaffran, a two-year-old going to the gates for the second time, was made the favorite.

SILVER BOND WINS

Silver Bond, favorite with Victoria punters, scored a popular victory in the first of the two races at two miles and thirty yards. Heavily backed, the winner scored a length decision over Silva after a great race. Enlo, next in the wagering, was right behind the place bangtail.

Miss Doublet, with Jockey Emil Sporri, Swiss hardboot in the saddle, captured the final event of the day and, incidentally, the last race on British Columbia tracks this season, with ten lengths to spare over Mahukona. Fair Heart was third.

Sporri, leading rider on British Columbia tracks this season, added the local honors to his credit in a blaze of glory and finished a fine performance in the pilot house with his victory on Miss Doublet. He was presented with a silver fox fur, the gift of Foster's Fur Store, to the top rider. A. Alexandor, manager of the local store, made the presentation.

WESTMINSTER SCORES 18-13 LACROSSE WIN

Salmonbellies Defeat Richmond Homes and Earns Right to Meet Trail

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (C.)—New Westminster's Salmonbellies won the Inter-City Box Lacrosse League championship and the right to meet Trail for the British Columbia title tonight, as they turned back Richmond-Homes, 18-13, in the fourth game of the series.

Salmonbellies took the first game and Richmond the second, with the Westminster men winning the next two in the best-of-five clash.

The inter-city champs will embark for the Interior, probably tomorrow, to open their series with Trail, Thursday.

A fighting Richmond squad held the fishmen in check for the first two periods, and the Westminstermen were led by only a slim two-goal margin, 8-6, at half-time.

Sparked by young Harry Campbell, who counted three goals in the period, Salmonbellies "opened up" and outscored Richmond, 6-3, to increase their lead. A desperate last-period drive by the Vancouver team failed to cut down the margin as the Westminstermen scored goal for goal.

Harry Campbell led the winners with four goals, while Blackie Black was the mainstay of the Richmond-Homes squad with four tallies.

Winner Is Congratulated

Ralph Guldahl, right, who won the United States National Open this year, congratulates Harry Cooper, on winning the Seagram Gold Cup, emblem of the Canadian Open. The photograph was taken at the ceremonies attending the presentation of the trophy at St. Andrew's, Toronto, which Cooper toured in 285, two strokes better than runner-up Guldahl. Standing behind Cooper is W. B. Clelland, well-known Toronto sportsman.

McLEOD AND JORDAN TOP GORGE FIELD

Share First Place in Sharland Cup Competition — Play-Off Set for Sunday

Chuck McLeod and Chuck Jordon finished in a deadlock for top place in the Sharland Cup tournament, which concluded Sunday at the Gorge Vale Golf Club with thirty-six-hole net totals of 133. They will play off next Sunday over the thirty-six-hole distance for the handsome piece of silverware, which was held for the last year by Clyde Banfield. Finishing 1 second place came George Cartwright with a net 134, while Mike Ott was alone in third position with 136. Tied for the next spot was Major Aitken, Hugo Allen and G. L. Smith, all with 138.

Hugo Allen shot a sensational round during the day. He was out in 37 and then gave Old Man Par an awful licking on the homeward stretch to come in with a great 33 for a 70. Hugo three-putted the last hole to miss a new amateur record for the course.

In the evening a banquet was held in the clubhouse with Bill Marshall as toastmaster. Dr. D. M. Baillie, club president, toasted the captain's team and in turn, Hugo Allen, the captain, replied. Jim Wedderburn, Bill Fletcher, guest singer, and George Cartwright rendered several songs and received a big hand from the large turnout. Charlie Hunt was at the piano and community singing was enjoyed. Charlie Banfield, in the absence of the president, presented the prizes during the programme.

WINS DOUBLE-HEADER FROM BOSTON BEES; CHICAGO BEATS REDS

Terry's Club Now Four and a Half Games Ahead Of Rivals in National Pennant Race — Four More Victories Will Give Them Flag—Foxx Hits Two Homers in Red Sox's Two Wins

NATIONAL LEAGUE

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP). — Although their batting attack was throttled down to a total of ten hits, the Giants today ran their National League lead to four and a half games by winning both ends of a double-header from the Boston Bees, 5-4 and 3-1.

Thus the Terrymen successfully got past the first of four straight bargain bills — another with the Bees tomorrow, and two with the Phils on the next two days—and moved a step closer toward clinching the pennant. The Chicago Cubs, who also won today, have only six more games to play.

The Giants, with nine left, can win the pennant by taking four even if the Cubs should win all of theirs. Breaks won both games for the New Yorkers this afternoon.

With the score tied at four-all in the opener as the Giants came to bat in the eighth with the bases loaded a balk was called on Lou Fette, and Jim Ripple crossed the plate with the winning run.

Again in the nightcap, the Giants' half of the eighth was decisive. Dick Bartell belted a double, scoring Burgess Whitehead and Joe Moore.

Klein Hits Two

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27 (AP).—Chuck Klein's thirteenth and fourteenth homers of the year, and another by Earl Brown with two men on, were the big blows today as the Phillies pounded out a dozen hits to whip the Dodgers, 11-3.

Cubs Trim Reds

CINCINNATI, Sept. 27 (AP).—The Chicago Cubs, still trying to catch up with the first-place Giants, won the opening game of a series with the Reds today, 7-4, but saw their deficit increased to four and a half games as the Giants won two from Boston.

Behind fancy flinging by Curt Davis, who shut out the Reds from the second through the eighth, Charley Grimm's crew unloaded an eleven-hit attack featuring Stan Hack and Phil Cavarretta that scored in the first, second, sixth and seventh on Al Hollingsworth.

Hack got three hits, one a triple that opened the two-run seventh, while Cavarretta weighed in with three singles.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CLEVELAND, Sept. 27 (AP). — The Indians said their "1937 Goodbye" to Cleveland today with a 2-1 loss to Detroit's Tigers. Eldon Auker, submarine right-hander of the Tigers, torpedoed the Indians when trouble threatened, and won his sixteenth game against nine defeats.

Teams Break Even

BOSTON, Sept. 27 (AP).—Big Buck Newsom and the Red Sox split with the Philadelphia Athletics today when the big Boston right-hander, after winning the opener, started the second game and was shelled off the mound in three innings.

Two home runs by Jimmy Foxx that accounted for four runs, carried Newsom and Boston to a 6-2 victory in the first game, but the Boston bats were silent and Newsom wild as the Athletics won, 6-0, in the abbreviated nightcap, called after the sixth inning because of darkness.

Basketball War Is Gaining Momentum; Meeting Is Stormy

Definite "Split" Between Dominoes and City League Takes Place After Rowdy Session Last Night at Y.M.C.A.—Local Club Does Not Enter League When Teams File Entries

Spain has its civil war and in the Far East the Japanese and the Chinese are in actual combat. Victoria has a war of another type, one minus the death-dealing missles, but certainly not immune from oratorical "mud-slinging," a basketball squabble with the Victoria Dominoes and the Victoria Basketball League aligned on opposite fronts.

A wide-open split between the former Canadian champions and the league was revealed yesterday evening at the Y.M.C.A., in one of the stormiest sessions in the history of the cage game in the British Columbia capital. Quiet and orderly in its early stages, the meeting developed into a bitter verbal battle that ended with no actual headway being made.

Charges that the officials of the Victoria Dominoes have basketball tied up and were in a sense dictators, were hurled like bombs that disturb the quietness of pre-war activities. One of the league officers tagged the names of Hitler, Mussolini and the Czar of Russia to certain heads of the former Canadian hoop monarchs, in the way of expressing just how strongly he figured the Dominoes had the local page situation under their "thumbs."

Moving early, the Dominoes secured the use of the Victoria High School gymnasium—the only place suitable at present for league fixtures — on Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, while on Mondays and Thursdays the hall is placed at the disposal of the Provincial Recreation Centres. Victoria Basketball League officials, with twenty-one clubs ready to play ball, stated that they have no place in which to stage their league matches. Faced with this problem, the meeting, at the suggestion of the executive, delayed setting the opening date for the 1937-38 season.

President Jack Taylor said: "It is impossible for the league to exist. We want the High School as before." Until such time as this situation is ironed out, prospects of league play look anything but bright. Taylor stated that the league's application for the use of the gymnasium has not yet been replied to by the Victoria School Board.

First intimation of the split was seen when the Dominoes failed to file their entry in the men's senior "A" division. With the new Canadian Basketball Association set-up generally accepted across the Dominion, but laid on the table as far as Victoria is concerned, the situation is still complicated. Dominoes, still wishing to play under A.A.U. rules, will, it is understood, play independent basketball.

However, twenty-one clubs, three more than last year filed their entries last evening as follows: Men's senior "A," Sons of Canada, Cubs and Hoyle-Brown; senior women, West Road, Burnetts, Gainers, Unitys and Cardinals; men's senior "B," Navy, West Road, Millionaires, Rays and Hoyle-Brown; men's senior "C," Spencers and Mount Tolmie Revellers; intermediate "A" boys, Canadian Scottish, St. Louis College Alumni, Kingham-Gillespie, Victoria Ramblers, North Quadra and Chinese Students.

It was announced following the meeting that Les Gordon, member of the executive, had tendered his resignation.

A general meeting of the A.O.F. Carpet Bowling Club will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the club's headquarters on Cormorant Street. Election of officers will take place and plans for the season will be discussed. All associate members and those wishing to play this year are invited to attend.

OTT STARRING AT NEW PLACE

Former Outfielder Doing Fine Job of Third Basing for The Giants

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—Reasons for the pennant surge of New York Giants may still be a mystery to some baseball observers, but they have, at least, been numerous enough. First and foremost was the early August shift of Master Melvin Ott to third base—the Louisiana larruper not only solved all infield problems, but simultaneously emerged from the longest batting slump of his brilliant career. Hank Leiber's return added punch when it was most needed.

Hal Schumacher regained control of his celebrated sinker ball just when Manager Bill Terry was wondering where he would get enough pitchers to go around. Long John McCarthy, an early-season liability at first base, got a fresh chance when Sambo Leslie was incapacitated and turned into a ball of fire, on all counts. Red-headed Jim Ripple, now the club's sparkplug, filled Ott's shoes in right field so successfully that it's doubtful if Mel could get his old job back even if he wanted. Harring Danning's backstopping made Giant followers forget that the old reliable Gus Mancuso was on the bench for weeks with a broken digit. When the great Carl Hubbell wavered in effectiveness, Cliff Melton stepped into the role of No. 1 flinger. Finally, Lou Chiozza, a bust at third base, flashed a come-back in centre field, with Leiber and Wally Berger on the bench. And to all these things the hitting spurts of Jo-jo Moore and Burgess Whitehead in the past month, plus the master-minding of Terry and the team's ability to snag close decisions (twenty-eight by one run so far this season) and you have the key to the big puzzle.

Ley Heads Rugby Union Referees For Second Year

C. E. Ley was last night reappointed chairman of the referees' board of the Victoria Rugby Union at the weekly meeting held in The Colonist board room. In charge of this important work last year, Mr. Ley was asked to continue in office by members of the union executive. Major Stuart Robertson, president of the local body, reminded the clubs that entries will definitely close on Monday, October 4, at 5 o'clock, when the Victoria Rugby Union will again meet in The Colonist board room. Plans call for the season to open on Saturday, October 9.

Tommy Farr Will Tackle Max Baer Late Next Month

NEW YORK, Sept. 27 (AP).—Ancil Hoffman, manager of Max Baer, today agreed to accept Tommy Farr, of Wales, as a substitute for Jimmy Braddock for a fight with Baer this Winter. The acceptance was received by Mike Jacobs, of the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, in a telephone conversation with Hoffman, who is in Sacramento, Cal.

Baer and Braddock originally were scheduled to meet October 29. An injured hand forced Braddock to give up the bout. Jacobs said Farr is willing to meet Baer but wants to visit home before making his second American appearance. Farr was beaten by Champion Joe Louis last month.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If September 28 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m., from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 9 to 11 a.m., from 4 to 6 p.m. and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

Entertaining morbid thoughts this day will be demoralizing. False conceptions are liable to play havoc with one's peace of mind, so straight thinking is essential for your happiness. In speaking, it will be wise to remember that any flowery forms of speech may destroy rather than inspire confidence in the sentiment it is expected to convey to the listener. The simpler the expression is, the greater will be the impression made upon the consciousness of the average person this day. General conditions appear to be auspicious for any kind of negotiation involving money. Transactions concerning the soil ought to be particularly free of complications, for anything relating to the ground seems to be surrounded by favorable influences. Married, engaged and sentimental couples should seize every opportunity presented this day to display a spirit of consideration and loving co-operation.

If a woman and September 28 is your birthday, through some talent you possess you probably will be very popular and a leader in your set. Do not give in to moods. You can control your disposition, making it extremely agreeable or disagreeable, according to the frame of mind you allow yourself to be in. You have the ability to train your mental powers, and it is only by allowing them to get out of control that wrong reasoning can affect your temperament. Fortune seems bound to smile upon your undertakings, especially if they are connected with educational, missionary, literary or artistic work. It appears that matrimony is your best medium for happiness.

The child born on September 28, generally in its springtime of life, advances with remarkable rapidity along intellectual lines of development. The outgrowth of association of ideas may lead to the accomplishment of some outstanding achievement.

If a man and September 28 is your natal day, you may be inclined to be very temperamental. Be careful that this characteristic does not interfere with your chances of becoming very popular. The probabilities are that as a lawyer, architect, chemist, artist, salesman, manufacturer, banker or writer you can win a reputation and make lots of money.

HEADING BACK FOR REPAIRS

United States Destroyers Badly Batered in Storm Off Nova Scotia

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27 (AP).—The destroyers Manley and Claxton reported today to the Navy Department they were so badly battered in a severe storm off Nova Scotia September 25 they were heading back to Boston Navy Yard for repairs.

The two destroyers sailed from Norfolk September 22 to relieve the destroyers Hatfield and Kane, which have been on duty in European waters adjacent to Spain since the Fall of 1936.

The blustering gale and mountainous seas swept away the Manley's whale boat and split her mainmast.

The Claxton's after deckhouse and lifeboats lashed on deck were damaged. Four of her portholes were stove in.

HEART FAILURE CAUSE OF DEATH

Early-Day Mariner and Son of Founder of Coupeville, Passed Away on Sunday

SEATTLE, Sept. 27 (AP).—George Marshall Coupe, eighty-seven, early day mariner of Puget Sound and son of the founder of Coupeville on Whidby Island, died yesterday from heart failure.

Captain Thomas Coupe founded the town that bears his name after taking the first square-rigged ship through treacherous Deception Pass.

The son, who came around the Horn at the age of four years to the Puget Sound country, was purser on the steamer Oregon during the Alaska gold rush days, when the vessel earned $94,000 on her first trip to Nome with fares ranging from $125 and freight $40 a ton.

He retired twenty years ago.

How It Started by Jean Newton

CAMOUFLAGE

Early example of camouflage:

Gideon, Jewish military genius of Biblical days, supplied each of his 300 hand-picked soldiers with a trumpet in one hand and a pitcher containing a light in the other, spreading them out over a wide area.

According to the custom of the time, only the commander of a company carried a light.

At a pre-arranged signal, the soldiers smashed their pitchers, blew wildly on their trumpets and approached an overwhelming army of Midianites; who, seeing the advancing lights, assumed the presence of a huge force and fled!

"Camouflage" is from a French word ("camoufler, to disguise); but it is a good trick in any language.

Our use of it comes directly from its place in the lexicon of the French theatre, where it means, generally speaking, make-up." It was the scene painters of Paris, who, lending their abilities to the War Department, introduced the word into army and navy lingo.

Camouflage is part of nature. The green grasshopper, the grass-colored snake, the brush-brown hare—all are examples of nature's protective camouflage.

Niagara to Sail To Southern Sea Ports Tomorrow

On her way to Sydney and way ports in the South Seas, the Canadian-Australasian Ss. Niagara, Captain A. T. Toten, commander, will be here for a short time tomorrow afternoon. The liner is due here at 5 o'clock, and scheduled to sail for Honolulu, her first post of call, at 5:30 o'clock. The liner will embark passengers and take on mails and cargo which was not loaded when the ship was here inbound.

HOLIDAY OVER

Ralph Matthews, of the local office staff, Canadian Pacific Railways, is back again at his desk after a two weeks' tour, during which he went as far as Winnipeg, where he turned south to Minneapolis, coming west over the Great Northern to Seattle and Vancouver. He was accompanied by Mrs. Matthews.

CHAPTER XLV

The colonel wasted no time with formalities. He set his cup down and got to his feet, ten finger-tips touching the desk.

"Brell, did you take the Fordell youngster into Charleston yesterday?"

Since he had come into the room, Brell's eyes had very carefully ignored Polly's presence. They continued to do so now. He pulled his heels together, squared his shoulders, and said: "Yes, sir. I did, Colonel Kopeless."

"But you did not bring him home when you returned?"

"No, sir."

"Did you tell this young lady the boy slipped out of your car while you were shopping?"

Polly thought, "Jerry didn't say that; Sheila did." But Jerry Brell said: "Yes, sir, I did."

"And was that," the colonel asked pointedly, "a true statement of the facts, lieutenant?"

Brell was as immobile as a stone figure through the long silence that followed.

"I wonder if you understood my question?" the colonel said, quietly.

"Yes, sir," Brell said, and a pink glow spread through his cheeks. Then his gaze flicked across the gray-green pools of Polly's eyes and he saw the ripple of amusement in them. The pink film became a deep flush. He said, abruptly: "I mean no insubordination, sir, but I must refuse to answer any more questions in Miss Markey's presence."

The colonel's brows lowered. "I hardly think you are in a position to refuse to answer my questions, lieutenant." He leaned over, took a sheet of yellow paper from a basket on his desk and handed it to Brell.

Jerry Brell took the message and read it:

"Advised by Miss Pauline Markey, who is arranging Norris Fordell's formulae for shipment to this department, that Fordell's young son is missing from home. She thinks kidnapping unlikely, but gravely concerned and asks that your command aid her in searching for boy in Charleston. Give her every assistance possible and advise if search fails to return boy to his home so that Department of Justice may be notified at once."

Jerry saw that the message was signed by an Assistant Secretary of War. When his eyes came up, they fixed accusingly on Polly.

A smile quivered on Polly's lips, vanished as she rose. She came to the desk and stood so near Jerry Brell she could have touched him. "I gave you until ten o'clock," she said, and turned to Colonel Kopeless. "I don't want to make this any more difficult for Lieutenant Brell than necessary." She held out her hand. "Thank you, Colonel Kopeless. I'm sure you will let me know as soon as you get any information about Tod."

The colonel walked to the door with her. "I will, I promise you," he said, soberly. "Good night, Miss Markey."

The colonel closed the door. "You young ass," he said, not unkindly, "you've gotten yourself in a mess. That message isn't a request—it's an order. I've had troops combing the city all night. Why didn't you tell me about this before you went off to Washington?"

Jerry Brell sank into a chair. "I didn't think she had the nerve to do it," he mumbled.

* * * * * *

Polly had not slept at all, and when she reached her room and fell across the bed it was her intention to snatch a nap before breakfast. When she awoke some five hours later, Sheila's face was just above her own.

Polly lay very still. She said, casually, "Oh, hello——" and gave a sudden upward lunge that landed her on her feet.

Sheila started at her, apparently bewildered, then said, "Polly—— I frightened you. I'm terribly sorry." Her eyes followed as Polly went to the dresser and sat down.

"I didn't realize who it was I suppose," Polly lied. She let her hair down and reached for the comb.

After a moment's silence, Sheila said, "Jerry was over. He's furious. He says he may be thrown out of the army as a result of what happened last night. Why did you do it, Polly?"

Polly said, "I wanted action—— and got it. And I'd rather not talk about it any more, Sheila."

"Oh, I see.' Sheila shrugged. She turned as if to leave the room, but suddenly faced the dresser again. "What I came up for was to be sure you didn't sleep through luncheon, Polly. Angus is having lunch with us as a sort of farewell party. You knew he had decided to give up his place and go back to New York?"

"No." Polly's hands were still poised over her head. "No, I didn't know. When is he going?"

"Tomorrow, I believe. He is behind in his contract schedule. His publishers want him to come up."

After a quiet luncheon, Angus followed Polly to the study and immediately began an earnest apology for having failed to keep his engagement with her the afternoon before. When Polly waved the subject aside as of no importance, he said in a voice that was almost a whisper:

"I'm going back to New York, Polly, but not to see my publishers. I fell into some information soon after I left you and I hurried into the city to check up." He leaned against the files. "I've got a line on Cleaves, Polly. He is here on the island—he has been here since the Fordells came down from Washington. And Evelyn, Sheila and Julian have been seeing him right along."

WEST ATTRACTS INSURANCE MEN

Rearmament Programme Helps to Keep Clyde Busy, Says Edinburgh Visitor

Deep interest in general business conditions and the growth of Victoria was evinced yesterday by Malcolm G. Hill, Edinburgh, deputy general manager of the Scottish Union Insurance Company, and J. H. Vreeland, assistant manager of Hartford, Connecticut.

They are here on an inspection trip. Though Mr. Vreeland has often visited this city, it is Mr. Hill's first journey through Canada. He was impressed with the West, and particularly delighted with Victoria. "Unfortunately we are here on business, which does not allow us to make a longer stay," he said.

Mr. Hill declared the rearmament programme was giving a considerable amount of work to the Clydeside. A battleship, as well as the sister vessel to R.M.S. Queen Mary, and two destroyers were on the ways at the present time, he said.

Mr. Hill and Mr. Vreeland left yesterday afternoon for Seattle, en route to the East.

In what today is described as the most elaborately staged, and most highly emotional picture of her brilliant career, Kay Francis comes to the Dominion Theatre today.

It is the Warner Bros. drama "Confession," adapted from the famed European play "Mazurka," which had sensational runs in the Continental capitals. The story concerns a famous opera singer who kills her betrayer in order to save from ruination her young daughter whom he is leading toward the fate of the mother. Basil Rathbone, June Bryan and Ian Hunter head the supporting cast.

20 YEARS OF STOMACH PAIN!

Resisted Every Treatment

Is your case like that of Mr. Joseph Kelly, London? For 20 years he suffered acutely from stomach trouble. Indigestion, wind, sick stomach and those pains and discomforts familiar to you if you suffer from stomach trouble proved unconquerable. "I had tried all sorts of remedies—Bismuth Tablets, Magnesia and so-called Maclean powders," he writes, "but since I obtained a bottle of the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder I have had no indigestion or sickness of the stomach.

Genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder can bring you the same quick relief it brought Mr. Kelly. It is a scientific powder which has been used with outstanding success in many hospitals. But there are imitations. Note what Mr. Kelly says about them. The signature, "Alex. C. Maclean" is on both bottle and carton of the genuine Maclean Brand Stomach Powder. # Jane Dixon Says:

A YOUNG MAN IS IN A DILEMMA ABOUT A GIRL WHO PALMS HERSELF OFF AS "SEMI-ENGAGED" TO ONE MAN, AND USES ANOTHER SHE PROFESSES TO LOVE AS AN ADDITIONAL THRILL.

Honest young women who truly are in love do not engage in the "two-timing" business.

When she tells you, young fellow, that you are the real one, that the other chap is just a convenience or a leftover she would like to get rid of and will get rid of the easy way, say your farewell there and then and ask her to ring you up when she has stopped using the other chap the way you'd hate to have her use you.

Dear Miss Dixon: Here's my story:

A girl has been going around with a fellow for about three years, and is what you might call semi-engaged to him. What I mean is that when a friend gave the engagement party for her, she didn't even attend, because she really did not want to pledge herself. The friend gave her the ring later that day. She let herself in for this because the man she expected to marry disappointed her and in a fit of the blues, she began going out with this second fellow. It's been that way for three years. She doesn't love him and has told him so, but he insists he'll take the chance, that she'll learn to love him after they are married. Do you believe this?

Now I come in. Six months ago she started going out with me, more as a lark than anything, because she likes to dance, and so do I. I fell in love with her, proposed, was told: "Perhaps, but let's go along as we are for a while." The situation was this: She would call me up every day at noon, and I'd pick her up after work at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and we'd stay out until 6, when she was due home for supper. At 7 o'clock, the regular boy friend called for her, and left her around 10 o'clock. Sometimes I would get a week-day evening or an occasional Sunday.

Of course, the regular boy friend knows nothing of her being with me.

I've asked her again and again to marry me—I can take care of her comfortably—but she keeps saying: "Wait." I've pleaded with her to let me tell the other fellow and her father the way things are, but she insists she will do it when the right time comes. Well, the right time has been a long time coming, so I am calling our part of the deal off until she makes up her mind. Right?

Please remember, that we've discussed marriage plans and our life together after marriage. She insists she loves me, that she just got to going around with the other fellow, and he's come to be a habit. I've been tempted to tell him the situation, but hesitate to do so. Maybe he loves her a lot, too.

What advice would you give to this girl?—Yours truly.

Answer: I'm not interested in the girl, Yours truly. I'm interested in you. She seems pretty well able to take care of herself—in her way. Any girl who can palm herself off as "semi-engaged" to one man and use another she professes to love as a catspaw, an additional thrill, a side-line attraction, is a mighty slick article, and much too bold and hard and confident to heed advice. It takes bitter experience to persuade her sort.

What's wrong with you, young fellow, that you permit yourself to accept the crumbs from the regular boy friend's table? How do you know you are not the one who will be told off when the showdown comes? What makes you think a deceitful girl will be on the level with you and knife your rival?

No girl of good heart takes six months to rid herself of a past tense suitor in favor of a man she loves.

I do not know of a single case in which love was born after marriage. Realization of a real and abiding love may follow marriage, but when it does, it was there all the time, and the heart which held it felt what the mind refused to acknowledge.

By all means call "quits" for yourself, and let it be quits until such times as the girl gives you a tangible evidence of her sincerity and her worthiness

TREATING FUNCTIONAL (NOT ORGANIC) HEART DISORDERS

When 300 patients enter the Akron clinic with heart trouble and 114 of this number are found to have no organic or true heart disease, it shows that there must be a great number of people who needlessly live in terror of heart disease. Thus Dr. Franklin Jukes, in "Ohio State Medical Journal," describing these cases of functional or non-organic heart disease, says: "Among the symptoms complained of was 'shortness of breath,' which is not true breathlessness, but a peculiar sensation of being unable to take a deep breath. The heart was pumping the normal amount of blood and the X-ray (fluoroscope) showed normal breathing.

"Another symptom was 'pain in the heart,' usually not due to the heart at all nor to exertion or effort. It was generally due to some stomach or intestinal disturbance, to neuralgia, or to pain in the muscles covering the ribs.

"Being always 'conscious' of the heart was another troublesome symptom usually due to fear of having heart trouble and occurring in unstable nervous individuals."

The finding of a heart murmur naturally upsets the patient. Of 100 persons without heart disease, twenty-two had murmurs. However, it should be remembered that about one in every five normal individuals have murmurs.

Many normal persons, who are tired physically and mentally, get out of breath easily, and have weakness, faintness, palpitation, and often a "tight" feeling under the breast bone (the exact spot where the pain of angina pectoris or partial closure of the blood vessel supplying the heart occurs).

These individuals show other symptoms of nervousness and emotional instability, but in order that no mistake should be made, a careful heart examination, including the X-ray and electro-cardiogram, is absolutely necessary to satisfy both physician and patient.

Where there is a slight organic trouble these nervous individuals are very difficult to treat because there is really something wrong with their heart even if it be very slight.

Naturally, as Dr. Jukes points out, the treatment of these "functional" heart disorders is usually directed at the nervous system with correction of habits. Treatment is to rest, exercise and sleep-producing drugs.

"Fine," nodded Mrs. Primm. "Then you can give me the newspaper—that is, all but the editorial page, dear."

"Just a minute, just a minute," said Primm. "Wait till I finish the comics."

BANQUETED AT EMPRESS

Customs Excise Staff Hosts To Visiting Officials Saturday Night

Members of the customs excise staff of the port of Victoria met in a private dining-room of the Empress Hotel, Saturday night, and tendered a banquet in honor of the visit to the city of H. D. Scully, commissioner of customs, and David Sim, commissioner of excise, Ottawa.

The visitors were introduced to the assembled officers by G. A. Yardley, collector of national revenue for the port of Victoria, who outlined the careers of the commissioners prior to and since entering public life. It was particularly interesting to note that Mr. Sim is the youngest commissioner the department ever had, being appointed to the post in 1934 at the age of thirty-four years.

COMPLIMENTS STAFF

Mr. Scully, in his address, referred to the many difficulties faced by departments where tariffs and taxes were involved. Changes in tariffs invariably cause a certain amount of dissatisfaction in quarters which become affected by the loss of a degree of protection, and in others where, in contradistinction, heavier duties have to be paid. Careful thought and consideration must be given to these matters, with the general national benefit the particular view. Laws enacted by Parliament must be administered by the departments, and while the executives at headquarters may receive criticisms and protests from time to time respecting certain phases of the law, it is the officers who come in daily contact with the public who have to bear the brunt; "those in the firing line," to quote Mr. Scully's remark. For this reason, selection of a high type of individual is essential in appointments in the services with a view to the preservation of harmonious relations between the services and the public.

In conclusion, Mr. Scully complimented the local staffs upon the very evident friendly co-operation that appeared to exist between the several branches at the port. He added, also, that, in his opinion, Victoria is the most beautiful city in the Dominion.

FRIENDLY RELATIONS

Mr. Sim spoke in similar vein regarding the enforcement of the law in its many ramifications and thought that, in so far as Victoria was concerned, very little trouble seemed to be experienced, due in large measure to the friendly spirit that appeared to exist between public and staffs. He then referred to the charm of the city of Victoria and its environs, with its beautiful trees and gardens and green fields, close to the sea and so ideally situated, in such contrast to the scenes of barrenness and desolation apparent in some other districts of the Middle West, particularly in the province of Saskatchewan, and regretted that business pressure prevented Mr. Scully and himself from having a longer stay on the Island.

C. A. Tervo, customs surveyor, in moving a vote of thanks and a toast to the speakers, aptly referred to the pleasure the local staffs felt in being privileged to meet the commissioners at an informal gathering, the first occasion where the heads of both departments have been able to come West at the same time.

William Harkness, local magician, then entertained the gathering with a very skillful demonstration of sleight of hand, which was well received.

DOWN IN WEIGHT AND CASH VALUE

British Columbia Production for July Less Than Totals for Same Month in 1936

OTTAWA, Sept. 27 (C).—British Columbia fisheries production in July was about $65,000 less than the estimated value of $1,765,400 for the same month last year, according to the monthly news bulletin published by the Department of Fisheries.

Total catch in Pacific Coast waters dropped 264,400 hundredweights from July last year, to 413,000 hundredweights, the bulletin said. Diminished returns from the salmon and pilchard fisheries were the main factor in reducing British Columbia totals.

The department said the total catch for fishermen through the Dominion was 1,051,300 hundredweights, a drop of about 248,500 hundredweights below figures for July, 1936. The catch had a landed value of slightly more than $2,562,600, a decrease of $59,500.

WRECK OF NEEBING LOCATED BY DIVER

RED ROCK, Ont., Sept. 27 (C).—Wreckage of the steamer Neebing, which sank in Nipigon Straits Friday with loss of six lives, was located today in 108 feet of water, following two days of sounding and dragging operations.

A diver was sent down after a ship's anchor had pulled up a section of the Neebing's forward cabin, but he reported no visibility and search for bodies was found impossible.

DONALDSON SHIP HERE

Motor Vessel Salacia In Last Night on Her Maiden Voyage

On her maiden voyage to North Pacific waters, the Donaldson Line express refrigerator Ms. Salacia, Captain James Cook, reached Rithet Piers at 9 o'clock last evening, inbound from United Kingdom ports, by way of Panama, California and Washington ports. Longshoremen went to work discharging local cargo immediately after she was tied up, and she continued to Mainland ports shortly after midnight. Captain Cook was last here in the Gracia, and Chief Engineer A. Reid, transferred from the Modavia.

Built especially for the peculiar demands of the Pacific Coast-United Kingdom run, the Salacia has 136,209 cubic feet of refrigerated cargo space, equipped with a new type refrigerating equipment which permits the maintenance of any temperature in any of her cooled-air compartments singly or together. There are continuous upper and main decks, and an orlop deck is fitted forward in Nos. 2 and 3 holds.

Seven bulkheads divide the vessel into five cargo holds, motor-room and fore and after peaks. She also has a deep tank situated in No. 4 hold with a capacity of 420 tons. This tank is double riveted and is suitable for the carriage of oil. The very latest equipment is fitted to insure the rapid handling of cargo. Lower hatchways are fitted with Neilson's rolling beams, and all weather deck hatches are fitted with Macanking sliding steel hatch covers, which permit of speedy opening and closing of hatches.

The Salacia has three two-berth passenger staterooms fitted with all modern conveniences.

Here to meet the ship were Captain Neil MacKinnon, assistant marine superintendent for the Anchor-Donaldson Line at Vancouver, and Gordon S. Jones, shipping agent for Balfour, Guthrie & Company, British Columbia agents for the Donaldson Line, of the same city.

SALVOR PULLED FROM MUDBANK

Freighter Went Ashore Near Squamish, Howe Sound, On Sunday Night

VANCOUVER, Sept. 27 (C).—The 390-ton freighter Salvor was pulled from a mudbank at Squamish, forty miles north of here in Howe Sound, at 11:00 o'clock today, Pacific Salvage Company headquarters announced.

The Salvor, operated by Galt Steamship Company, of Vancouver, in the British Columbia coastwise trade, ran aground last night.

No estimate of damage was available immediately.

NEGOTIATIONS SATISFACTORY

Demands for Recognition And Wage Increases Likely To Be Granted

MONTREAL, Sept. 27 (C).—Threat of the Canadian Seamen's Union to "tie up every Canadian vessel on the Great Lakes" eased tonight as J. A. Sullivan, secretary-treasurer of the organization, announced he expected Canada Steamships Lines and the Tree Line Navigation Company would meet demands of the men for recognition and wage increases.

After separate meetings with C.S.L. and Tree Line officials, Sullivan said negotiations were "proceeding satisfactorily."

"I think we shall be able to reach a definite agreement with the two lines," he said. "Tomorrow morning we will meet representatives of the Ontario and Quebec Transportation Company."

Sullivan said if agreement were reached with the three shipping companies and the other fourteen failed to meet the union's demands, their ships would be tied up. "We will clear the three, however," he added.

MAKE "GOOD PROGRESS"

E. M. Quirk, local representative of the Federal Labor Department, said the men and the companies were making "good progress." He expects a general agreement would be reached if the C.S.L., Tree Line and Ontario & Quebec Transportation met the men's demands.

OTTAWA, Sept. 27.—Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, stated today he had instructed E. M. Quirk, Labor Department representative at Montreal, to sit in at today's conferences here and assist in every way possible.

"I trust the negotiations will be successful," the minister said. He was not prepared to say at this stage what action would be taken if the parley on wages and working conditions fails and the men prepare to go on strike at midnight tomorrow as threatened.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the unwatched acetylene gas light on Ildstad Island, Quatsino Sound, B.C. is reported not burning. This light will be attended to as soon as possible.

A. W. R. WILBY,
Agent, Dept. of Transportation.

NO TIME TO LOSE

Jones was a bootmaker. By hard saving he had managed to send his son, Billy, to a good school.

One afternoon Billy came into the shop.

"Father," he demanded, "I want a dollor to go to the theatre."

"What!" cried Jones. "Do you realize that I've got to sole and heel about three pairs of shoes to make one dollar profit?"

Billy seated himself in a chair.

"All right, father," he said, "go ahead, but make it snappy."
